CLAIM BRYAN O.K.'D POLITICAL FUND

NRA Opposes All Price Fixing Except In Emergencies

CONKLIN SAYS PLAN APPROVED BY GOVERNOR

Judge Overrules State's Objections to Land Commissioner's Recital of Interview With Chief Executive — Official Again Denies Fraud Plot.

Defense counsel brought the name of Gov. Charles W. Bryan into State Land Commissioner Harry P. Conklin's trial in District court Thursday when Judge Frost permitted Conklin to tell over the prosecution objections a story that Bryan approved a plan for voluntary contributions by capitol janitors to build up a campaign fund for Conklin's benefit.

As Conklin remained on the stand throughout Thursday's session jurors heard a version of the land commissioner's activities which contradicted on every major point testimony given by the state's witnesses. Conklin repeatedly denied statements made by the prosecution, witnesses and repeatedly reiterated the claim that he never conspired in any way to defraud the state through fraudulent janitorial payroll vouchers.

Direct examination of the defendant had not been completed when the court recessed shortly before 1 o'clock Thursday afternoon. Judge Frost suspended activities at that time for the day because of the heat, and announced that for the rest of the week, including Saturday, court will be called at 8:30 o'clock in the morning, and continue until 1 o'clock, with no afternoon session.

Argue Admissibility.

Opposing attorneys argued for nearly an hour on the admissibility of Conklin's conversation with Bryan when the governor lay sick in bed in the spring of 1933. The state contended such testimony had no relation to the case, but the court accepted the defense theory it was necessary to prove Conklin was collecting a campaign fund by legal means from janitors. The state charges he defrauded the state by having warrants for the janitors drawn for more than he agreed to pay them and then collected back the excess.

Conklin said he went to see Bryan to find why William Wood, aged negro butler at the executive mansion, was on the land commissioner's capitol janitor payroll. Bryan, he said, told him the man had been employed by governors for many years and was sort of a state pensioner. Conklin said he agreed to leave Wood on the payroll.

Says Bryan Approved.

The land commissioner said Bryan the nasked him if he was raising a campaign fund. Conklin said he had been too busy, but that some of "the boys" had told him they were starting one. He said Bryan smiled and said he "should be gratified" because "you can't have a campaign without campaign funds," Conklin said he told the governor it was all new to him.

Max V. Beghtol, in arguing for permission to introduce this testimony, said he wanted to show Conklin had no intent of defrauding the state and to attack the credibility of state witnesses, most of whom were former janitors. He said they had been discharged and employed by Bryan.

Attorney General Paul F. Good said he wasn't prosecuting Conklin for raising a campaign fund but for defrauding the state and that the proposed testimony was immaterial.

Bryan's Name Injected Again.

Governor Bryan's name was

PRESIDENT SIGNS BANKRUPTCY ACT

Designed to Facilitate Release of Corporations From Receivers.

WASHINGTON, June 7—(AP)—President Roosevelt today signed the corporate bankruptcy bill designed to facilitate the release of distressed companies from the hands of receivers.

The president signed the measure in the presence of Senator Van Nuys, democrat, Indiana, and Representative McKeown, democrat, Oklahoma.

He was particular to sign the legislation exactly at 12 noon because of the legal effect.

SPECTACULAR FIRE DESTROYS LINCOLN FACTORY

Building Is Total Loss; Coal Yard Also Burning.

Fire was sweeping the Queen Incubator Co. and a coal yard at Fourteenth and X streets Thursday afternoon. Towering smoke was visible for over a mile, and flames were visible for several blocks.

The old incubator factory building, part of it a two-story structure, was a complete loss and the walls collapsed a quarter of an hour after the alarm was turned in.

WORK MEASURES MAN---CUTSHALL

Addresses Pupils Being Promoted To Senior High Schools.

Declaring that "a man is worth as much as those things to which he gives himself," Dr. E. Guy Cutshall, chancellor of Nebraska Wesleyan university, told the 914 junior high graduates Thursday afternoon to "put your best foot forward as you enter high school and train yourself in stretching up to the higher standards of your ideals." The promotion exercises were held in St. Paul M. E. church.

Dr. Cutshall warned the pupils that there are three dangers of graduation that are particularly in evidence.

"The first of these," he said, "is that life does not break up into blocks, it does not turn sharp corners or swing up sharp inclines—it flows on and as it starts, making unnoticeable changes. The day before graduation is about the same as the day after, and the day in between. This day is not a day of magic. It releases no mystericus forces; it is simply a pause to take inventory of our directions and to review the tenor of our way. Strength is gained, but it is the strength of better perspective not the inrush of new powers."

He warned them that there was also danger in giving the impression of the drawing near the end of all study and education.

"Let this be a day of resolving that life to its ripe end in three score and ten years shall be one of constant endeavor to learn more. A third danger," he said, "is that of expecting to have our enthusiasms recharged every now and then by a spectacular review of our progress. Life does not throw us a pageant

Lancaster County's Relief Situation Is Acute, Warns Smith

Now that the federal government is looking to the counties to bear a larger share of the burden of relief, the problem in Lancaster county has become quite acute. E. L. Smith, told members of the Cooperative club Thursday noon at the luncheon at the chamber of commerce. The county committee does not know where the money is coming from, Mr. Smith declared, "the county already having levied to the limit for relief purposes."

"Pug" Griffin and "Cy" Lingle, owners of the Lincoln baseball franchise also spoke. They joined with club members in contributing to a prize fund for the Boy Scout relay race on O street next Friday.

INVITED TO ROUNDUP.

John A. Stryker, secretary of the North Platte roundup, June 30 to July 4, inclusive, was the guest of W. S. Written, secretary of the chamber of commerce at luncheon Thursday. He invited Lincoln people to attend the roundup on July 3, which has been designated as State Fair day. Mr. Stryker also spoke at the luncheon of the Lions club.

Over 1,900 Gallons of Cream Spilled On Road In Truck Crash

The earth near Emerald was flowing with "milk and honey" Thursday morning—except it was cream and there was no honey.

Nineteen hundred twenty gallons of cream spilled on highway No. 6 about 4 miles west of Emerald when a front tire blew out on a 2½ ton truck, driven by Dick Earley, enroute from Norton, Kas., to Omaha at about 7 o'clock in the morning. The cream carrier careened across the road and collided with a ton and a half truck driven by Harry Milton of Friend.

Neither of the drivers was injured, but Deputy Sheriff Homer Greer, who arrived later to direct traffic through the "milk and honey," was listed as a casualty. Greer was badly sunburned after standing in the sun for four hours without a hat.

Earley's truck is a tractor-trailer combination. The trailer broke loose and upset on the road. All but 55 of the 119 30-gallon cans of cream spilled.

EARLY LINCOLN PIONEER DIES

Mrs. Schmale Came Here In 1866 When Town Known as Lancaster.

One of Lincoln's earliest pioneers, Mrs. Mary A. Schmale, 83, who had lived in this vicinity for almost three-quarters of a century, died at her home, 136 North Thirty-first street, at 5 o'clock Thursday morning.

Mrs. Schmale had been ill for more than a year and had been bed-ridden all of that time.

Came Here In 1866.

Mrs. Schmale came to Lincoln with her parents from Davis, Ill., her birthplace, in the spring of MRS. MARY SCHMALE.

1866, when the town was still known as Lancaster and when only about 100 people lived in the town. She was born March 16, 1851.

There were only a few houses here and her father bought a blacksmith shop and a house at what is now Eighth and O streets. Mrs. Schmale was the only living person left who attended the Luther McKesson wedding in those early days. During those early days some of the other pioneers here were Luke Lavender, Judge Pound, Jacob Dawson, J. M. Young, Milton Langdon, Thomas Hudson and Cyrus Carter, all familiar names in the history of the city.

In 1867 she was married to William Bridge who died in 1869. During those two years they lived on

Superintendent Of Chadron Park Dies

A. E. Speer Dies Suddenly of Heart Attack; Appointed to Post Six Weeks Ago.

CHADRON, Neb., June 7—(AP)—A. E. Speer, superintendent of the Chadron state park, died unexpectedly today of heart disease. He came here April 1 from Falls City and replaced J. W. Good as superintendent.

Governor Bryan appointed Mr. Speer superintendent of the Chadron park about six weeks ago, replacing Mr. Good who is advanced in years. Mr. Speer was a resident of Falls City and his body will be taken to Falls City Friday, according to information received by the state game, parks and forestation commission here.

CENSUS FUND BILL PASSED BY HOUSE

WASHINGTON, June 7—(AP)—The Lozier bill to provide $10,000,000 for an agriculture-unemployment census next fall—labeled by republicans as a democratic move to pay for the coming congressional campaigns out of the federal treasury—was passed by the house today and sent to the senate.

Booking Motorists

By noon Thursday police had booked more than 10 motorists for violation of the brake and light ordinance. The testing period closed May 28 and Capt. Paul Shively announced that owners of cars not displaying the brake and light certificate will be hailed into court for prosecution. He said he felt sufficient warning has been given motorists and that henceforth traffic officers have orders to arrest all violators.

NORTHEAST AND CENTRAL PARTS GET MORE RAIN

Holt County Cloudburst Reported; Showers In Cherry County. Moisture Totaling Four Inches Pours Down Near Rogers.

Weather bureau officials said Thursday's 99 degree mark was the hottest June 7 in history. The previous mark was 97 set last year.

Jupiter Pluvius smiled heartily on northeast and central Nebraska Thursday as more good rains fell generally throughout those sections, ading to the already ample rainfall which these areas received Tuesday and Wednesday.

From Chambers to Page in Holt county a one inch cloudburst was reported, according to the Associated Press. The rains appeared to be distributed over the entire county, with the heaviest precipitation at Chambers and Page.

Downpour Darkens Sky.

The rain lasted only about a half hour but the rain came down in sheets, darkening the skies so that lights had to be used. Temperatures dropped 25 degrees in a few moments. Some hail accompanied the downpour but no damage was done. Spectacular lightning flashes accompanied the rain.

The sky continued cloudy and threatening thunder made natives think more rain was due. The .22 of an inch received at O'Neill brought the week's total there to 1.41. Cherry county received good showers and Gothenburg residents ambled in a slowly falling rain during the morning, smilingly recalling that it was the first rain since April 4. The total was .17 of an inch.

Lincoln Still Swelters.

Lincoln residents continued to swelter under a temperature which rose to 98 degrees at 12:30. The humidity was 32, seven per cent higher than Wednesday's high reading. The temperature rose steadily all during the morning despite good breezes from the south.

The Burlington reported that Plainview and Laurel got good rains from 7:30 o'clock to 9 o'clock Thursday morning, when each place reported a quarter of an inch.

Wiffy Cox Takes Lead in U. S. Open

Johnny Goodman Shoots 76 In First Round and Rodney Bliss 74.

MERION CRICKET CLUB, Philadelphia, June 7—(AP)—As the pace quickened under a professional counter charge late today over the bunkered battleground, Bobby Cruickshank of Richmond, Va., the diminutive Scot, shot his way into a three-cornered tie with Charley Lacey of Great Neck, L. I., and Wiffy Cox, veteran Brooklyn pro, for the lead in the first round of the U. S. open golf championship. Each carded 71, one over Merion's exacting par.

MERION CRICKET CLUB, Philadelphia, June 7—(AP)—Wilfred (Wiffy) Cox, veteran Brooklyn, N. Y., professional, broke through the faltering professional ranks this afternoon to fire a brilliant 71, only one over par, and take an undisputed lead in the first round of the United States open golf championship.

Playing with the colorful veteran, Walter Hagen, who spoiled a great start by skidding to a 76, Cox varied the procedure by finishing sensationally after a shaky getaway. He was out in 37, shot even par, 34, for the incoming nine and took a three-stroke lead, with half the field of 149 starters accounted for.

Johnny Somewhat Erratic.

MERION CRICKET CLUB, Philadelphia, June 7—(AP)—Johnny Goodman, Omaha amateur, started his defense of the United States open golf championship today with a somewhat erratic 76, which was six over par but nevertheless good enough to keep him in the running as the majority of first round scores skyrocketed over the windy Merion layout.

Alternately brilliant and mediocre on the greens, Goodman three-putted no less than four times, but also saved himself from soaring higher by getting down long putts on the 11th, 13th and 17th. The champion was seldom off the line and had no difficulty with the longest, toughest holes on the course.

With most of the professional favorites in late-starting brackets, the early pace, with about a third of the field of 149 starters accounted for, was shared by Goodman's fellow townsman and amateur rival, Rodney Bliss, jr., with Jimmy Thomson of Los Angeles and Willie Cozzin of San Francisco, both professionals. All carded 74's as Bliss, a former Cornell university star, electrified the gallery with an incoming sub-par 33.

William Lawson Little, jr., burly Stanford university star just back from his triumph in the British amateur championship, broke his favorite driver on the second hole and subsequently blasted himself out of the running with an 83.

Tommy Carroll Of Dillinger Gang Critically Wounded

WATERLOO, Ia., June 7—(AP)—A man who said he was Tommy Carroll, member of the Dillinger gang, was shot five times by police officers here this afternoon as he reached for his gun.

He is in a hospital, and is believed to be dying.

A girl with him was captured.

Carroll admitted his identity to Detectives Emil Steffen and P. E. Walker, who did the shooting.

At the hospital he said:

"I've $700 on me. Be sure the little girl gets it. She doesn't know what it is all about."

INCREASED AAA PAYMENTS WILL BENEFIT STATE

$250,000 Additional To Come To Nebraskans Under Contract.

Nebraska farmers holding AAA wheat contracts will realize about $250,000 more on their second benefit as a result of federal action increasing the rate of payment to nine cents a bushel. This is a one cent raise, effected in Washington as a part of the drouth relief program. Including the increase a total of $1,500,000 will be paid out in Nebraska in second wheat benefits, according to the college of agriculture.

The second payment will be made as soon as compliances are completed, Elton Lux of the extension service reported. "Effort is being made to speed up re-checking compliance," he declared. "No one whose blanks can be completed will be made to wait for his check because other blanks in the county are incomplete.

County Agent J. F. Purbaugh welcomed news of the increase here. He said it would increase the amount due Lancaster county by approximately $4,100 bringing the check totals here to about $26,100.

SEVEN COUNTIES BALK FERA PACT

Officers Agree Oppose Contracts Asked By Haynes.

BEATRICE, Neb., June 7—(AP)—Officials representing seven southeastern Nebraska counties met here today and agreed to present a solid front in rejecting the FERA requirement of "agreements" to obtain further federal relief funds.

The counties were Gage, Jefferson, Thayer, Saline, Nemaha and Paynee counties.

W. A. CONNOR HURT AS CAR OVERTURNS

Grand Island Man Is Injured In Collision Northwest Of Lincoln.

Walter A. Connor, about 30, Grand Island, suffered head and arms cuts and a fractured rib when his car overturned in a collision 10 miles northwest of Lincoln on the S. Y. A. highway at about 11 o'clock Thursday morning.

Doran Bellamy, Grand Island, who was riding with Connor but was unhurt, said a car driven by J. B. Martin, 945 Garfield street, came out of a sideroad and collided with the Connor machine. Martin brought Connor and Bellamy to St. Elizabeth's hospital, where the injured man was treated by Dr. Earl N. Deppen.

Brussels Cheers Heir To Throne

Belgium Rejoices at Birth Of Son to King Leopold and Queen Astrid.

BRUSSELS, June 7—(AP)—Belgium, plunged into sorrow three months ago by the death of King Albert, rejoiced today at the birth of his grandson, to be named Albert.

The child was born at 11:35 last night to Queen Astrid and King Leopold III in the royal castle at Laeken. Her majesty and the infant son were reported to be well.

All Brussels was awakened at 6 a. m., today by the boom of 101 guns announcing the joyful event and the news was communicated officially by Burgomaster Max.

The newest member of the royal family was born during a crisis in the government, several hours after the cabinet headed by Count Charles De Broqueville resigned.

Count De Broqueville is expected to return to office shortly with virtually the same ministers, however.

King Leopold and Princess Astrid, married in 1926, have two other children: Josephine Charlotte, 6, and Baudoin, 3, heir-apparent to the throne. Princess Astrid is a member of the Swedish royal family.

Court attendants said the baby would be named for the beloved Albert, killed in February on a mountain climbing expedition.

CONFERENCES TO PREVENT STEEL STRIKE CONTINUE

McKeesport Group In Washington to Protest Against Walkout.

INDUSTRY CHIEFS RESUME MEETING

Split Over Leadership in Labor Union is Causing Concern.

WASHINGTON, June 7—(AP)—A delegation of McKeesport, Pa., steel workers, who said they did not represent the companies, arrived today to protest at NRA against a strike and challenged statements of Governor Pinchot that steel concerns are arming.

"As far as the McKeesport mills are concerned, the governor's statement is incorrect," said Watson McKee, chairman of the national compliance board at McKeesport.

Meanwhile, Hugh S. Johnson, NRA administrator; Edward F. McGrady, his labor aide, and Secretary of Labor Perkins conferred over ways of averting the strike.

Johnson said steel employers had not rejected his plan presented in New York yesterday for formation of a mediation board. He added it was under advisement.

The McKee group expressed the opinion the activities of the self-styled rank and file committee of the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers were the result of a desire on the part of members of that committee to gain control of the international offices of the union.

Protest to Roosevelt.

The rank and file committee of the Amalgamated made public a telegram sent to President Roosevelt last night in which they protested that the Weirton Steel Co. had discharged 116 men, including two union leaders, and that this action followed a canvass by company "bosses" to discover which men intended to go out on strike.

Leaders of the "rank and file" delegation said today they would either "see the president of the United States or go home and prepare for the strike." This assertion was coupled with a prediction that they might move the strike date up from June 16, possibly to next Monday.

There was evident concern both in government quarters and at the American Federation of Labor over the leadership split in the union, with fears that it would be extremely difficult to find anyone able to control and speak for the men.

Steel Chiefs Meet Again.

NEW YORK, June 7—(AP)—Facing a fast developing crisis in labor relations, heads of the nation's steel industry gathered around the conference table again today to deal with strike threats.

Resumption of thier meeting this morning followed a two and a half hour conference late yesterday with Hugh S. Johnson, NRA administrator, whose arbitration proposals were received without comment.

While the steel industry leaders grimly reiterated their refusal to deal on a closed shop basis, it was clearly evident today that the door was still open for creation of a special labor relations board similar to that adopted for the automotive industry.

WHITING, KANSAS, BANK IS ROBBED

WHITING, Kas., June 7—(AP)—Two young men, neatly dressed and unmasked, robbed the Whiting State bank of an undetermined amount of money about noon today and fled in a motorcar with two companions who had waited outside the bank.

Miss Katherine Lentz, bookkeeper, and Miss Viola Edds, a customer, were told to "behave and there will be no shooting." They did.

As the pair prepared to leave the bank Leo Jenson, cashier, entered. He dashed out again to telephone Sheriff Albert Brown at Holton, and vigilantes. But pursuit of the robber's black sedan was unsuccessful.

CODE POLICY MODIFICATION IS ANNOUNCED

Negotiation Instead of Compulsion Will Be Used to Get Coded Industries to Modify Price Sections on Revised Bases—Decision Reached After Months of Study.

WASHINGTON, June 7—(AP)—The NRA committed itself today against all price fixing in codes except in clear cut emergencies.

The new policy also sharply modifies the bases for price sections in all codes, negotiation instead of compulsion to be used to get coded industries to revise such sections on the revised bases.

This was the first definite pronouncement by the recovery administration on the controverted pricing question, and followed months of study. It will govern all future codes, and industries already coded are to be approached at once with the request for voluntary amendments to conform with the new policy.

The purpose is to obviate destructive price cutting while reducing to a minimum opportunities for artificial maintenance of high prices, and similar developments which have caused complaint.

The arrangement will permit open price provisions in codes where desired by an industry, but on the condition that prices be reported to a confidential disinterested agency for distribution to all members of the industry and customers willing to pay for the service.

Such posted price may not be revised upward within 48 hours, but may be reduced without time limit. The prices posted will represent actual transactions or offers and there will be no waiting period during which competitors may make arrangement for a uniform price.

The new policy also encourages adoption by industries of model cost finding and accounting provisions, but expressly provides that no accounting methods may be forced on any company by the code authority or other firms.

New Policy Explained.

Instead of prescribing that no sales shall be made below cost, as many codes have required up to now, the new basis merely declares "when there is no emergency, it is NRA policy to avoid price fixing but also to prevent destructive price cutting."

The emergency price control method to be used will follow broadly that already established in the retail tire and ice codes. It is provided that when the administrator

CELEBRATION BOOSTER TRIP

Invitation To Be Extended Eighteen Towns Saturday.

The committee in charge of ballyhooing the Greater Lincoln celebration on the O street opening, Friday, June 15, headed by Monte Meyer and E. A. Patchen will leave the Cornhusker hotel at noon Saturday for a westward trip to eighteen towns in the Lincoln trade territory on an itinerary about 200 miles long. The trek eastward will be made the following Wednesday and will be about 250 miles.

The Patcher-Meyer car will be followed by a few carloads of girls to make up the remainder of the motorcade. An invitation from Mayor Fleming to each mayor of towns visited will be given during the stop. The Saturday trip will touch the following towns:

	P. M.		P. M.
Seward	1:00	Saronville	4:45
Tamora	1:30	Sutton	5:00
Utica	2:00	Grafton	5:15

Invitations To Mayors.

Wednesday, the mayor of each town was notified by Mayor Fenton B. Fleming that the caravan would make the tour, accompanied by his personal representative carrying invitations to both the officials and people of the towns to attend the jubilee. The invitation reads:

"Yourself, and through you, the citizens of your community are invited to join the people of Lincoln on Friday June 15, in celebrating the completion of the paving, and installation of new ornamental and traffic lighting systems on O street.

"The official opening of the street has been fixed for 10 a. m. I hope you can be present an hour earlier, to join in the beginning of the celebration which will continue throughout the day, and well into the evening.

LAKE VIEW ASKS FOR CITY WATER

Residents Seek to Have Main Laid From Lincoln.

Representatives of Lake View Thursday were conferring with FERA officials in an effort to have that community connected with the city water system.

Lake View has been pleading with city authorities since 1929 for water. Now the situation is "extremely acute," it is claimed. The wells are virtually dry, residents are hauling water from the city in barrels and milk cans. Only water that has been brought from the city mains has been used for drinking in the public schools there for several years.

Had school continued another two weeks, it was learned, all water used there would have been taken from the city mains. The school water also was hauled in milk cans.

It is the hope of the Lake View people that a main will be laid to connect with a large pipe in the Burlington yards. A request will not be made to the city without first conferring with the city engineer.

As Rogers Sees It

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., June 7—Glad to see the republican party honor Henry Fletcher, ex-ambassador to Italy. He is a very able man. They made him chairman of the republican national committee. Course you got to use a little humor when you say it's an honor to hand a man the republican party to run at this time. It's sorter like giving you an empty gun to protect yourself. Henry will do 'em as good a job as anybody could, if he confines 'em to constructive criticism. Mr. Roosevelt has a unique position in the feelings of the people. They will let you throw a brick at him, but it's got to be loaded with something besides political mud.

Yours, WILL.

Rhododendron Festival Queen

—(A. P. Photo.)

Resplendent in her royal robes is Queen Myra, who will rule over the 1934 rhododendron festival at Asheville, N. C., June 12 to 15. In private life she is Myra Peyton Lynch, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. M. Lynch of Asheville and a prominent member of the younger set. (A. P. Photo).

REDUCED RATES IN DROUTH AREA

Apply To Shipping In Feed and Shipping Out Stock.

WASHINGTON, June 7 — (AP) — The interstate commerce commission today authorized railroads in 12 western states to reduce freight rates on livestock and livestock feed to and from drouth areas. The rates affect 257 counties in Colorado, Kansas, Minnesota, Montana, Nebraska, New Mexico, North Dakota, Oklahoma, South Dakota, Texas, Wisconsin and Wyoming.

The reduction was authorized to permit shipping feed into the areas and also to permit shipping livestock out to points where there is feed and water.

The order authorizes a rate of 50 per cent of the present rate on hay, 66 2-3 per cent of coarse grains, 66 2-3 per cent on cotton seed and other vegetable cakes and meals, 85 per cent of the fat stock rate on livestock sent to feeding points and 15 per cent of the fat stock rate when the livestock is returned from feeding points to the drouth area.

EVELYN FRESHETTE IN MICHIGAN JAIL

WASHINGTON, June 7—(AP)—Imprisonment of Evelyn Frechette, John Dillinger's feminine companion, in the federal detention jail at Milan, Mich., was made known today at the department of justice.

Miss Frechette, a half-breed Menominee Indian, was convicted by a federal court in St. Paul of having harbored Dillinger. The girl was removed to Milan secretly by department officers in order to check any possible efforts by Dillinger men to free her enroute.

The detention jail at Milan also shelters Catherine Kelly, wife of George "Machine Gun" Kelly, western kidnaper.

The selection of the Milan jail was made by Attorney General Cummings after consultation with Sanford Bates, director of the federal prison bureau.

Registration for the University of Nebraska's summer sessions will begin at the coliseum Friday morning and continue until Saturday noon. Classes begin Monday morning. The short session continues until July 20 and the long session until August 3.

Oklahoma Village Will Not Support Candidates Who Are More Than 40

SCHULTER, Okla., June 7—(AP)—After the next election, any candidate more than 40 years old is going to be out of luck in this town.

A decision to refuse support to such candidates was made at a mass meeting attended by three-fifths of the town's 500 voters.

Public officials, especially legislators, were criticised freely for failing to relieve a situation under which corporations are unable to obtain compensation insurance for employes more than 40 years old.

"This restriction on compensation insurance simply prevents men more than 40 years old from getting jobs," said a spokesman.

The electors had observed, he said, that most candidates were over that age.

"We intend to give public officials and candidates for office a dose of the same thing that has been inflicted upon us by their indifference to the condition," he added.

SEEK PLAN FOR COUNTY RELIEF

Work To Be Provided for Farmers Struck By Drouth.

With Lancaster county designated as a drouth area and under such designation entitled to share in the rural work relief plan, Conty Agent Purbaugh began Thursday morning the business of arranging for administration of the program. A county drouth committee has been appointed. It consists of J. F. Purbaugh, chairman; W. O. Buel, Hickman; and Earl Downing, Davey. Precinct committeemen named by Purbaugh are:

Mill, Harold Almy; Rock Creek, Mike Gleason; Little Salt, Alen Dahl; West Oak, Hubert Higgens; Elk, Chester Allen; Oak, W. W Carlisle; North Bluff, Francis Finigan; Waverly, S. E. Heilman; Stevens Creek, Earl Huling; Lancaster, Ed Hoffman; Garfield, Everett D. Clark; Middle Creek, Alva Hoppman; Denton, Fred Lostroh; Yankee Hill George Burgess; Grant, Roy Hunt; Stockton; Fred Schultz; Nemaha, Frank Eisle; Saltillo, Ira Burt; Centerville, Hubert Frahm; Highland, Henry L. Henning; Olive Branch, Charles F. Burk; Buda, Dave Pillard; South Pass, Ben Wismer; Panama Mr. Dickson.

Agent Purbaugh went Thursday to the office of Rural Rehabilitation Director White to confer on the means to be followed in this county to provide work projects for farmers so that they might either obtain feed or funds for feed for their livestock.

Meanwhile County Engineer Weaver wondered whether the plan would provide him with men to do much needed culvert and road work. Following the partial collapse of the FERA program in this county he has been seeking a solution as to the proper method to follow n finishing projects which were started with FERA labor in the expectation that it would be available until they were finished.

BELL-ANS FOR INDIGESTION

PAINT IT RIGHT

It costs no more to use good paint-and what a difference

$2.98 A GALLON

Some folks use low-priced paint because they feel they can't afford the finer grades of paint, but quite the opposite is true.

It costs no more to use the BEST paint than to use inferior paints that may even cost considerably less per gallon.

WHY?

Simply because the price per gallon is only one of four factors that determine the true economy of a paint.

FOUR THINGS-AND THEY'RE ALL IMPORTANT

COVERAGE

Of two paints otherwise alike, the one covering the most square feet per gallon would be the most economical. Good paint at $3.00 a gallon would cost the same as a $2.00 a gallon paint which covered only two-thirds as much surface.

HIDING POWER

If a single coat of good paint at $3.00 a gallon will hide a surface as well as two coats of cheap paint costing only $1.50 a gallon (and it will) quite obviously the better paint costs no more and look what you save in labor!

DURABILITY

Good paint, wearing three or four times as long as cheap paint (as it will) makes an ultimate saving of six or eight times the price of the cheap paint even if the cheap paint costs only half as much.

PRICE

Price is the only factor of the four that you can know before you buy. Therefore it pays to play safe and buy paint made by a reputable manufacturer.

Actually cheap paint costs more than twice as much as good paint when coverage, hiding and durability are considered.

Remember it costs less, even at the outset, to use good paint especially when you can buy Cook's finest quality house paint at a saving of over half a dollar a gallon.

— Murder at MOCKING HOUSE

BY WALTER C. BROWN

SYNOPSIS: There are many tangled threads about the baffling murder of a policeman and a stranger in Pierre Dufresne's house. One of them, the disappearance of a mysterious .45 calibre revolver, seems to lead to Dufresne himself. Sergeant Harper is the more suspicious because Dufresne is too anxious to stop the investigation, and get the police out of his house. Dufresne has called in Harper's superior officers.

Chapter 26.
PEACEMAKERS.

"Seageant," the Director began in his booming voice, 'Mr Dufresne has asked me to see what can be done to expeditie this inquiry. Of course," he continued quickly, "it has never been my policy to interfere arbitrarily with any man in my department, as you know, Harper but Mr. Dufresne is an old friend of mine and I want to be as accommodating as I can, especially in view of Mrs Dufresne s mishap '

"I think it would be inadvisable to move from the scene of the crime under present conditions,' Harper replied, quietly but firmly

'But why, in Heaven s name?" cried Dufresne "Am not I the one most concerned? There will be no more threatening letters no more shots from hiding I don t care who he was or what he was It is enough to know that he will not trouble us again. He was undoubtedly a homicidal maniac '

"What makes you think so? ' Harper challenged

Dufresne stared in surprise "What else can we think? You have every characteristic of a violent homicidal mania '

"Apparently yes, and of the most virulent type ' agreed Harper 'But you forget that we have no proof whatever that the man who was killed last night was the same one who wrote the threatening letters and shot at you yesterday"

Dufresne broke in excitedly "Sergeant, you are deliberately manufacturing difficulties To call such a train of events a coincidence is to stretch a remote possibility until it snaps of its own thinness" He snorted his scorn of such an idea

Captain Macklin had been taking in this verbal tilt intently From the first he had sensed some underlying current of hostility between Dufresne and the detective He injected himself smoothly into the conversation "Harper, have you any direct evidence that this man was not the one who wrote the crank letters? '

"Captain Macklin, I would prefer to make my report privately"

"Come, now, Sergenat," Connors boomed, "there's no need to take that line There seems to be a little friction between you and Mr. Dufresne. We don't want anything like that"

"Gentlemen," said Dufresne with great dignity "my wife needs peace and quiet after the shock she had last night She is the innocent victim of bungling methods—'

"Mr. Dufresne," Harper snapped, his temper rising "you will please remember that I had nothing to do with Mrs. Dufresne s mishap"

"I am not blaming you, Harper There was nothing personal in my complaint, but the fact still remains"

"Let's not get side-tracked," Macklin resumed. "Is there any such evidence, Harper?"

"Not direct evidence, sir."

"Of course there isn't," Dufresne interrupted again 'What happened in this room last night is plain to be seen There is no need to twist it into still more fantastic shapes nor in trying to rationalize a madman's actions"

Director Connors waved his big, blunt cigar in the air "Yes, Harper, if you've got anything substantial to build on, let s hear about it '

Harper drew himself up stiffly "Very well, Director, I have been reluctant to part with this information for fear it would hamper my further work in this case Maniac or not," he answered impressively, "this man was murdered, not by Officer Hamill, but by a third person who was here in this room! This same unknown person also killed Hamill! The scene was fixed, the evidence tampered with so that it would look as if the two men had killed each other. At first this was only a theory, a suspicion of mine, but now I positively know it to be a fact"

"You have the proof?" Captain Macklin asked with restrained tensity

For reply the detective briefly recounted the doubts he and Carlin had shared concerning the wound in the murdered man's head and how it had led to the recovery of the original 45 bullet and the roll of carpet with the telltale bullet hole

Harper had been keeping a wary eye on Dufresne during his recital, but the latter appeared as nonplussed as the others

"This is utter nonsense,' he cried "It cannot be. The bullet that killed this maniac came from the policeman's gun It was found right here in the room"

The detective held up the steel-jacket "Why was this bullet hidden away so carefully?" He stood the roll of carpet by the table "Why does this carpet have a bullet hole through it? We tested our theory of concealed murder by hunting for concealed evidence—and we found it And we're going to find more of it!"

"There are traces. The substitution of bullets is one It is true there are no fingerprints but this criminal was too astute for that. No doubt he wore gloves. The murderer sat in this room with his victim. They even drank together and perhaps it was at that moment the killer chose to fire After the murder the extra glass was washed, dried, and put back in the cabinet But we have found the glass with traces of its recent use still in the bottom

The murderer s first thought was to melt down the bullet by holding it in the flames of the log fire with these tongs A systematic effort was made to hide the victim's identity—a ring was forced from his finger, an emblem from his coat lapel, whatever papers, keys or other articles he had were rifled from his pockets Even the labels were ripped from his own clothes None of these things has come to light in the house—we assume that the murderer carried them away."

"That is all guess-work, Harper," Dufresne rebutted. "If there was a third person, as you insist, how did he escape from this house after the crime? I'll admit fingerprints can be wiped away but you can't wipe away tracks in the snow"

"I can't answer that question yet," the detective replied. "I don't know how it was done, but I know that it happened. We've had men murdered in locked and sealed rooms and the solution turned out to be quite simple. If the murderer planned a way to escape without leaving tracks in the snow I'll find how it was done before I'm through!"

Harper looked directly at his commanding officers "I have other evidence that cannot be divulged in this house without seriously injuring our chances of success"

Dufresne sneered openly "It's fortunate I was under your own police guard last night, Harper, or you would crown this brilliant fantasy of yours by accusing me of being the master mind behind this affair"

Harper's face reddened at the insulting tone which barbed these words He stepped forward so that he stood face to face with Dufresne "Those two men were murdered," he repeated, "and I am sure that at least one person in this house could identify the man who masqueraded in your likeness. I'll go even further, I believe that you, Mr. Dufresne, are helping to shield that person from us and that is a dangerous game to play '

The master of the house threw back his head and lauched tauntingly "Now I know you're crazy!"

'Mr Dufresne," Harper purred "a little while ago you told me that you had only one gun in your possession—an automatic."

"Yes?"

"Perhaps you'd be interested to know that you own another weapon, a revolver of large calibre. This was usually kept in the upper right-hand drawer of the highboy in your dressing-room Early this morning that revolver was still in its place It has since disappeared Can you tell us anything about that?"

Dufresne looked at him out of a face suddenly sobered 'I own no such revolver" he stated firmly

"Your butler, Andrews, says that you do"

"Ring for him We'll soon get to the bottom of that," Dufresne replied, sharply

They waited in an uneasy silence until the butler made his appearance. Andrews stood looking from one to another inquiringly under his tufted white eyebrows.

"Andrews, what in the devil have you been saying to the police? Go on, Harper, you started this"

Harper faced the old man. "A little while ago you told me that Mr Dufresne kept a revolver in a drawer of the highboy in his room. Mr. Dnfresne denies that"

Andrews lifted his head. "I never saw such a revolver," was his calm statement.

Tomorrow, Sergeant Harper defies Dufresne.

Held in Cuban Plot

Dr Guillermo Martinez Marquez, director of a Havana newspaper, who is held incommunicado in the Cabanas fortress, charged with complicity in the terrorist plot against Jefferson Caffery, U S ambassador to Cuba The plot was climaxed by the death of a Cuban guard from wounds received when terrorists fired on U S embassy.

COUNTY BALANCE SHOWS INCREASE

Federal Funds Enabling Citizens To Pay Up Delinquent Taxes.

A balance of $428,193 was reported for May 31 by County Treasurer W C. Albers Thursday morning This is $33,326 above the balance of $394 867 of May 31 a year ago. Much of the difference is due to payment of delinquent taxes, largely through funds received from the HOLC, corn loans, or wheat benefits, Treasurer Albers says

One of the most striking contrasts apparent in the separate funds as they stand on May 31 this year is in the county general fund A year ago it had a deficit of $39,340 and now it shows a balance of $84 387 The federal work-relief projects which have considerably lessened relief demands on the county have been a factor in the county general fund's current favorable status, according to County Clerk Morgan

The only fund which shows a deficit is that for mothers' pensions It is $6 796 in the red Balances in some of the larger funds are state general, $14 569, county bridge, $46,148, county highway, $50,089, village road, $10,318, district school, $148,358

The reason the county has been able to continue on a cash basis, according to Clerk Morgan, is largely because of the delinquent taxes which are being paid up "We have exceeded slightly the mark of 85 per cent of collections," he said

Bulk of the county cash is deposited in the three Lincoln banks as follows First National bank, $138 680, Continental National bank, $120,000, and National Bank of Commerce, $130,000.

NEWSPAPER GUILD ASKS ROOSEVELT REMOVE BUCKLEY

ST PAUL, Minn, June 7—(AP)—Removal of George Buckley, deputy administrator of the newspaper code at Washington, was demanded of President Roosevelt in a resolution adopted unanimously by the American Newspaper guild in convention here today'

In a personal report submitted by Robert M Buck of Washington also adopted unanimously, Buckley was condemned as "a tool of the publishers" The report said: "His word is unreliable, and he lacks the ability, judgment and temperament for a position which calls for impartial effort to dispose of differences and prevent conflict."

The guild voted to send President Roosevelt a telegram this afternoon in conformity with its action The report also asserted that Buckley be removed "from any connection with the administration of the code of fair competition for the daily newspaper publishing business"

About People

Twenty of Lincoln members of Job's Daughters will go to Hastings next Monday and Tuesday for the annual state meeting. They will be accompanied by Mrs John M Bennett

OCEAN PLANE REPAIRED.
LONDON June 7—(AP)—Mechanics today hoisted a rebuilt motor into the trans-Atlantic airplane of Capt George A. Pond and Lieut. Cesare Sabelli, and the fliers hoped to be off for Rome by Saturday. So many delays have been encountered since the aviators were forced down at Moy, on the west coast of Ireland, May 15, that they hesitate to set a definite time for resumption of the New York to Rome flight.

E. C. HILL DROPS DEAD IN OFFICE

Heart Attack Fatal to Hatcheryman; State Resident 51 Years.

Earl C Hill, 62, a resident of Nebraska for 51 years, dropped dead from heart disease in his office at the Hill Hatcheries, 1044 North Fifty-fifth street at 1.45 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. Mr Hill had been under a doctor's care with heart trouble for more than eight months.

Earl C. Hill.

He had been associated with his son, Roscoe, in the management of the Hill Hatcheries during the past 10 years Prior to that time, he was employed by the Burlington as a storekeeper, a position which he held in many Nebraska towns for 27 years. When he left the employment of the Burlington, he was stationed at Plattsmouth He also was a farmer for five years near Beemer

Born in Fort Dodge, Ia, on January 22, 1872, he came to Nebraska at an early age

Mr Hill was a member of Beemer lodge No 253, A F & A M He was also a member of the University Business Men's club

In addition to his son Roscoe, he is survived by one daughter Mrs Kathleen Amos of Hastings; two sisters, Mrs W W. Glenn of Lincoln and Mrs Arthur B Smith of Evanston, Ill; and three grandchildren.

The body is at Wadlow s mortuary.

Observance Of Flag Day Asked

Citizens of Nebraska are requested by Governor Bryan in an official proclamation to join in observing Flag day, June 14, as the 157th anniversary of the action taken by the continental congress in 1877 adopting the stars and stripes as the emblem of the American colonies, then struggling for their freedom. The governor says

In Nebraska we have by law given special significance to that anniversary by providing that patriotic exercises shall be held in the schools on that day as on the birthdays of Washington and Lincoln and on Memorial day

It seems proper and worthwhile for citizens generally to display Old Glory and to hold patriotic programs on flag day—both to celebrate the adoption of the emblem of the union and as evidence of our faith in the ideals of our country

Now Therefore I do hereby set aside and proclaim Thursday June 14 1934 as flag day and urge that it be so observed throughout our state Let us on that day honor Old Glory and the principles for which it stands

AUTHOR OF 'SLOW TRAIN' BOOKLETS COMMITS SUICIDE

MINERAL WELLS, Tex. June 7—(AP)— The author of "A Slow Train Through Arkansas" and many other chuckle-filled booklets is dead.

The body of Thomas W. Jackson, the "railroad" humorist, was found in the bathroom of his home here yesterday by Mrs. Jackson A bullet wound in the temple, apparently self-inflicted, caused death

The booklets Jackson wrote and published sold mostly on trains He was the train "butchers' " joy.

His most famous joke concerns a clean-shaven passenger on that "slow train through Arkansas." After stopping for several cows on the track and conversations between the train crew and farmers, the passenger had grown a lengthy beard. He complained of the slow service.

"If you don't like it, why don't you get out and walk?" the conductor snapped.

"I can t, my family's waiting for me They don't expect me until the train gets in," the passenger replied

Methodist Board Sees An Increase In Drunkenness

WASHINGTON, June 7—(AP)—The board of temperance, prohibition and public morals of the Methodist church said in a statement today that "first statistical returns from leading American cities justify an expectation that arrests for drunkenness in 350 cities this year will exceed by 250 000 the number of such arrests during the worst year of prohibition."

The stateemnt said very few cities show a decrease of drunkenness arrests "either while beer alone was being sold or under full repeal conditions.

"A particularly alarming feature of the situation is the very large increase in the number of arrests for driving while drunk and the great increase in the number of motor accidents and fatalities This increase seems to be uniform throughout the country

"The trend indicated by these reports justifies serious concern It is perfectly apparent that federal and state policies must be hastily revised in many particulars."

Dr. Bell And 5 Helpers Start On Exploration

Another link in the chain of evidence with which it is hoped to prove that man lived in Nebraska 20 000 to 30,000 years ago, will be sought by Dr. Earl Bell of the University of Nebraska and five helpers who left Lincoln Thursday to spend two months in camp near Wynot, in northeastern Nebraska

They will study the remains of 15 ancient habitations that Dr. Bell found last summer on a bluff overlooking the Missouri river. They are the newest clues to the mystery of the tribes that disappeared from Nebraska's prairies centuries before Europeans came

The party includes Paul Cooper, assistant to Dr Bell, and four students, Clarence S Paine, William Hollister and Steve Wimberly, all of Lincoln, and Harold Dahms of Seward

On his return August 1, Dr Bell and Prof William Van Royen of the university will begin a state wide investigation of all evidence assembled tending to prove man lived in Nebraska as long as 30 centuries ago.

Three Held In Killing Of 2 Indiana Officers

SEYMOUR, Ind, June 7—(AP)— John Pfaffenberger, Seymour policeman who was shot Monday night when he attempted to halt the flight of three young bandits, died in Schenk Memorial hospital here last night.

Shortly after the wounding of Pfaffenberger, Deputy Sheriff Harold Amick of Scotts county was shot and killed.

The three bandits—Ed Coffin of Greenfield, Robert Neal of Bloomington and Lacell (Toots) Long of Helmsburg—have since been captured and are charged in New Albany with first degree murder.

Coffin admitted he fired the gun which resulted in the two deaths.

DEAD FROM WOMAN'S BITE.
SAN FRANCISCO, June 7—(INS) —Bitten by a woman prisoner, police Corporal James W. Ray was dead today. Infection, necessitating amputation of the policeman's index finger, spread and caused his death.

TWO KILLED IN KENTUCKY FEUD

Eighteen Members Of Warring Families Stage Mountain Battle.

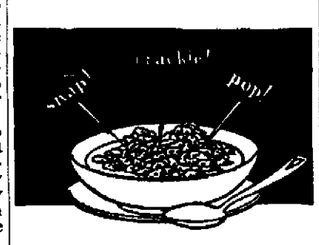

BARBOURVILLE, Ky, June 7—(INS)—Smouldering feud blazed as two families gathered in a clearing on a mountain top in the remote Brown branch neighborhood 19 miles from here and when the flareup was ended two youths lay dead and another dying.

Eighteen from the Brown and Gray families fought in the furious clan battle, according to meager reports reaching here today Guns, knives and fists were used by the mountaineers.

Obie Brown was stabbed to death and Lester Gray was fatally shot Anothre Brown was reported dying from knife wounds. All three were under 20 years old, it was reported

Thirteen of the warring factions were taken into custody for questioning and a probable appearance before the grand jury here

Farley Says G.O.P. Picked Wrong Man

NEW YORK, June 7—(AP)—Postmaster General Farley said toda he was convinced the choice of Henry P. Fletcher as chairman of the republican national committee "will make little difference in the next election"

"Mr. Roosevelt's re-election is a foregone conclusion," he said 'He is steadily increasing in popularity

'The selection of Mr Fletcher is evidence of the fact that the republican party is still pursuing its old policy which was repudiated by the voters at the last election"

He called Fletcher a member of the "old guard and said he thought the republicans would have done better to choose a representative of the younger element in its ranks.

A jury is funny. It never seems to wonder why the slain man reached for his gun when he didn't have one.

RUSH BEGINS TO TARIFF BARGAIN COUNTER OF U.S.

Greatest Revision in Nation's History to Promote World Trade.

WASHINGTON, June 7—(AP)— A rush to the tariff bargain counter began today.

A select list of America's best customers came to talk business with President Roosevelt, just granted unprecedented powers to negotiate reciprocal treaties to promote world trade.

A bill, giving the president authority to move tariffs as much as 50 per cent up or down in fostering give-and-take with other nations, passed congress yesterday. The president is expected to sign it promptly.

Quickly Argentina and Germany made overtures at the state department. Others planned to get in the forefront of the 27 nations with which treaties are expected.

Greatest Tariff Revision.

Early negotiations are also expected with Sweden, Brazil, Mexico and Canada

Secretary Hull will have general supervision of the tariff revision program. Francis B. Sayre, assistant secretary, will be in immediate charge as chairman of the executive committee on commercial policy

Sayre drafted the bill under which he will carry on the greatest tariff revision undertaken in the nation's history

The tariff commission is expected to hold hearings on any major product involved.

The tariff-makers expect to limit immediate negotiations to countries whose products do not compete seriously with American goods.

TRAIN WRECK IS FATAL TO THREE

Two Engine Men and Lone Woman Passenger Killed in Maryland.

BALTIMORE, June 7 — (AP) — Three deaths were marked up against the wrecking of a Pennsylvania railroad passenger train today with the recovery of the bodies of its two engine men from Little Gun Powder falls, some distance from where the train plunged down a 30-foot embankment at Graystone, north of here.

T F Bossom, engineer, and J. O. Blauser, fireman, both of Baltimore, were thrown clear of the engine cab as the locomotive imtedded itself into the mud buttom of the creek. The bodies were found shortly after daybreak, about eight hours after the accident.

Miss Margaret Frederick, 20, of Parkton, the only passenger on the northbound local on the Baltimore-Harrisburg branch, was badly scalded by steam when the boiler of the locomotive exploded. She died a short time later in a Baltimore hospital.

The accident was blamed by railroad men on spreading rails.

Bride Confesses Killing Admirer

Denver Woman Says Detective Dared Her to Shoot 'and I Did.'

DENVER, June 7—(AP)—A bride of a fortnight was held in jail today by police who said she admitted slaying an admirer.

"He dared me to and I did," Mrs. Belle Fiske Newton, 30, was quoted by Roy Mack, assistant captain of detectives The dead man was one of Mack's subordinates Detective James S. Turner, 46. His body was found yesterday in a field near Arvada, a suburb.

Mrs. Newton's purported confession told of a drive with Turner Monday to an isolated spot. There she told him she had been married two weeks before to F. H. Newton, a motor car salesman, and the detective was said to have become abusive.

Shot With Own Gun.

"I grabbed his gun and told him I'd shoot him," Mack quoted Mrs. Newton. "He dared me to and I did."

Mrs. Newton said she drove Turner's car back to Denver and then returned to the scene of the killing, but could not find the body in the darkness.

Her arrest came after a farmer told police a woman came to his house and said she had been "riding with a Denver police officer and had to walk home." The farmer drove her home and later led police to the Newton residence.

Newton was detained by police, but Mack predicted his release.

POLLACK RITES THURSDAY.

WASH OUT 15 MILES OF KIDNEY TUBES

Win Back Pep . . . Vigor . . . Vitality

Medical authorities agree that your kidneys contain 15 MILES of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy.

If you have trouble with too frequent bladder passages with scanty amount causing burning and discomfort, the 15 MILES of kidney tubes need washing out. This danger signal may be the beginning of nagging backache, leg pains, loss of pep and vitality, getting up nights, lumbago, swollen feet and ankles, rheumatic pains and dizziness.

If kidneys don't empty 3 pints every day and get rid of 4 pounds of waste matter, your body will take up these poisons causing serious trouble. It may knock you out and lay you up for many months. Don't wait. Ask your druggist for DOAN'S PILLS . . . a doctor's prescription . . . which has been used successfully by millions of kidney sufferers for over 40 years. They give quick relief and will help to wash out the 15 MILES of kidney tubes.

Don't take chances with strong drugs or so-called "kidney cures" that claim to fix you up in 15 minutes, for they may seriously injure and irritate delicate tissues. Insist on DOAN'S PILLS . . . the old reliable remedy that contains no "dope" or habit-forming drugs. Be sure you get DOAN'S PILLS at your druggist. © 1934, Foster-Milburn Co.

Big Strike, or Peace?
Breeding New Gamblers
Mob Dishonesty

By ARTHUR BRISBANE

An important "steel meeting is seeking a way to avoid a dangerous strike. General Johnson of NRA flew from Washington to New York yesterday afternoon and Donald Richberg, who represents the administration's conviction that workmen should have a controling influence in their work, also flew to the meeting in the big city.

Gambling in the Dublin sweepstakes has made a few Americans "rich" for a little while, some getting $152,000 each. The lottery took out of the country many more dollars than it sent in, which is not serious. What is serious, is the fact that this Dublin lottery and others like it, are breeding a new crop of gamblers, relying on chance, instead of on effort. We had enough of them already, thanks to horse racing and other gambling.

A forceful writer, commenting on the British decision not to pay the war debt quotes Mr. Clemenceau's statement "something has gone out of the English character" The late Lord Northcliff said about the same thing before Clemenceau. He said Englishmen were "going down" while Frenchmen were "going up" in character. Rudyard Kipling had something of the idea when he talked about the British "flanneled fools at the wickets and muddled oafs at the goals."

The fact is that the British and others in Europe have been paying heavy taxes and they see no common sense in sending good money to a lot of Americans. The mob spirit, as regards financial honesty, is not different from the mob spirit as regards murder. Citizens will approve wholesale murder in war that would not approve individual murder, and the same citizens will approve wholesale national dishonesty that would not approve, although they might extensively practice, individual dishonesty.

Drouth, resulting in lack of grass, is followed by the announcement that milk in New York City will cost 1 cent a quart more. (That means 15 cents a quart for Grade A milk and 13 cents a quart for Grade B) The mothers of children must pay for the drouth. New York's mayor, La Guardia, promises that next Monday he will begin selling 50,000 quarts of milk daily at 8 cents a quart, "in sanitary sealed containers," and increasing the amount every day.

The Canadian quintuplet girls are still alive and doctors are amazed. How long they will live is doubtful, even with the added assistance of an oxygen tank to supply life to the blood An ancient religious saying "the blood is the life" would have been more accurate had it said "the oxygen in the blood is the life."

Mothers will be interested to know that the five little girls arrived two months too soon, also that nature planned a sixth, that did not arrive.

BUSINESS CHIEFS TO DISCUSS NRA

Suggestions for Changes In Recovery Units Will Be Analyzed.

(Copyright 1934 by the Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 7—Fifty or more of the country's most prominent businessmen and industrialists are planning to put their heads together within the next ten days to compare notes on their experience with NRA.

Such figures as Gerard Swope, Myron C. Taylor, Pierre S. du Point, Alfred P. Sloan, Henry J. Harriman, John J. Raskob, Lincoln Feline, Walter S. Gifford, R. E. Wood, S. Clay Williams, Sidney J. Weinberg and Walter C. Teagle are among those expected to gather at Hot Springs, Va., June 16 to draw out of analysis and criticism a number of suggestions for changes in the recovery unit's methods.

Discussion will be free and frank. No publicity has attended the call for the gathering and an attempt will be made, in accordance with present plans, to keep it private.

Many Have Been NRA Advisers.

Many of the executives have served on NRA's advisory board, which was set up by Hugh S. Johnson, NRA administrator, with labor and consumer boards, to advise him in the development of NRA's codes and administration.

These leaders, most of them members of the business and advisory council, have a semi-permanent position in advising on governmental affairs. The council, as conceived by Secretary Roper, was to give business a quasi-official organization through which it could study the government and speak with more authority than outside organizations.

The council will meet here at the end of this month and it has announced it expects to present recommendations for NRA. These recommendations will be largely based on the Hot Springs discussions.

Quintuplets Show Continued Gain; Mother Recovers

CORBEIL, Ont., June 7—(AP)—There was more noise—and hope—about the little Dionne farm home today, for the quintuplets whose health the world is watching have developed healthy appetites.

Meal times come around pretty often, every two hours, but not too often to suit the five little sisters.

"They were wide awake and yelling at their last meal," said Dr. A. R. Dafoe. "They are getting to know when it's dinner time."

Given Little Rum.

Rum in minute amounts is being given the children to stimulate them and they seem to enjoy it, the physicians made known.

Mrs. Dionne is expected to leave her bed today for the first time since her confinement. Dr. Dafoe said the 24-year-old woman, now the mother of 10 children, was near death when the quintuplets were born ten days ago.

Mother Much Better.

"She was practically dying," he said. "We couldn't feel any pulse and she was unconscious and suffering badly from nephritis, which is pretty well cleared up now"

The latest weighing-in showed the babies are putting on much needed poundage. The weights were: Marie, the weakest, 1 pound 9¼ ounces; Yvonne, 2 pounds 6¾ ounces; Cecille, 1 pound 1½ ounces; Emilie, 1 pound 12⅛ ounces, and Annette, 2 pounds 4⅛ ounces.

MOTHER THINKS SON HAD CARE

Protests Using His Death In CCC Camp As Propaganda.

GRAND ISLAND, Neb., June 6—(AP)—Mrs. Alva Rupp, mother of Floyd Rupp, who died while at Camp Plainview, Ark., today published an appeal against the use of the incident by the unemployed council as propaganda and for the purpose of raising funds to send a delegation to the governor of Nebraska and to the camp to make an investigation. Over her signature she says in part: "While my son was a member of the CCC camp I received numerous letters from him. He never complained about his care or treatment. I have had no part whatever in circulating any reports that my son died as the result of lack of care or treatment. I believe he received the best of care and treatment at the camp and hospital. Those soliciting funds for the purpose of sending a committee commenced such solicitation without my knowledge or consent and absolutely against my wishes. I protest against the use of the name of my son in any propaganda criticising the government and those in charge at Plainview, Ark., CCC camp. I have suffered enough by the loss of my son. I ask that 'I be let alone in my sorrow and grief.'"

Party In Lincoln.

A group of Grand Island people called at Governor Bryan's office Wednesday morning to see if they could get his help in demanding the return of all Nebraska men enrolled in a federal CCC camp at Plainview, Ark.

In the party that visited the capitol were Mrs Harry Weise, a sister of Floyd Rupp, and her husband.

MARRIAGE LICENSES.

(Special to The Star)

WESTERN SOLONS BRUSHING UP ON BRYAN ORATORY

WASHINGTON, June 7—(AP)—There's a run on William Jennings Bryan oratory at the congressional ary.

As western senators bone up for the silver debate, almost all copies of the "Cross of Gold" speech and other examples of the silver-tongued orator's speech-making have been lent to senatorial offices.

And here's a bit of a floor debate about gold:

Senator Dickinson, republican, Iowa: "If somebody did not help to keep the democrats straight they would be stealing the gold off the dome of the capitol."

Senator Connally, democrat, Texas: "The senator's party did not leave any gold on the dome when it went out of office."

N. B. The dome is plain iron. No gold.

COOPER INJURED IN 25-FOOT FALL

Condition Is Serious; Slips From Roof Of House.

Condition of John Cooper, 67, who fell approximately 25 feet from a ladder while painting his house Wednesday afternoon, was described Thursday as very serious by Dr. D. J. Bowman, who is attending him at St. Elizabeth's hospital.

Mr. Cooper was painting the top gable of the house of his daughter, Mrs Lyle H. Smith, 1410 B street, when the acident ocurred. He fell three stories to the ground. He lost consciousness for a time.

Dr. Bowman said that Mr. Cooper suffered a fractured pelvis, a dislocated shoulder, a 3-inch cut through the skin and muscles of the right leg, possible head and internal injuries and minor cuts on the right eye, right ear and hands.

CHILD DROWNED IN CISTERN AT GURLEY

Lifts Lid and Topples In and All Efforts at Resuscitation Prove Futile.

GURLEY, Neb., June 7—(AP)—Harold Engel, 4, of Lyons, Colo., drowned Wednesday in a cistern while playing in the Charles Gabriel yard here. The lad apparently lifted the lid from the cistern and toppled in. The body was recovered a few minutes after the boy was missed, but resuscitation measures were futile.

TWO SISTERS ELECTROCUTED

Wet Floor In Basement Columbus Home Causes Fatality.

COLUMBUS, Neb., June 7—(AP)—Evelyn and Delores Gerber, sisters, were electrocuted Wednesday afternoon in the basement of their home here while their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam H. Gerber, were spending the day in Omaha. The girls were 13 and 9 years old, respectively.

The two girls went to the basement to get a pail to use in mopping the kitchen floor. The basement floor was wet from rain which had swept in an open window. Delores apparently received a shock when she touched the iron frame of a washing machine to which a power wire was connected. The older girl received a fatal shock when she took hold of her sister in an effort to pull her away from the machine.

Madeline Gerber, 10, a sister, found the bodies and notified neighbors, who summoned a physician and the sheriff. On a chance that it might be possible to revive the victims, attempts to do so were made for some time, but in vain.

Firemen rushed to the house with a pulmotor, but it was not used when it was found it would be useless.

Two brothers of the victims, Sam junior, 5, and Julius, 2, were also in the home at the time of the tragedy.

Confusion On Cochran Name Will Disqualify Number of Petitions

Some of the petitions that have been circulated in many parts of Nebraska and sent in to the secretary of state's office, proposing State Engineer Roy Cochran as a candidate for governor in the democratic primary, will have to be thrown out because they do not have his name right.

One petition with 25 names attached, if formally accepted in writing by the person in whose behalf it was presented, would be sufficient to constitute a legal nomination and insure the printing of his name on the primary ballot. The fact that some of the Cochran filings can't be counted will make no real difference.

Most of the memorials mention him as Roy L. Cochran, which is the name he is ordinarily known by.

A petition sent in from Elyria the other day was for "R. LeRoy Cochran." He would be entitled to run under this filing, as his actual name is Robert LeRoy Cochran. However, he can't be a candidate under both names at the same time, nor can petitions for him under varying nomenclature be considered.

To cap the climax, somebody up at Plainview mailed in six petitions carrying 200 or more signatures from citizens of that town, Brunswick, and Osmond, boosting "Roy C. Cochran" for governor.

State Engineer Cochran has not signified as yet what he will do about accepting the petitions.

School for Thirty Recruits of Liberty Life Ends Thursday

A luncheon at the Lincoln hotel concluded the first three day sales school ever conducted for Lincoln Liberty Life Insurance salesmen. Joseph Albin, secretary and general manager of the company, addressed the thirty new sales recruits on "Rules to Success." Treasurer E. N. Van Horne and A. J. Gillette, the school's director, made a few remarks. This school probably will become an annual affair, company officials said. The recruits gave the administration a vote of thanks during the noon celebration.

FIND RUNAWAY BOYS.

Two Grand Island boys who ran away from home two days ago were taken into custody at Plattsmouth Wednesday night. State Sheriff Fred Benton reported Thursday. The boys, Harris France, 14, and William Ruple, 15, were held for the Grand Island chief of police who went to Plattsmouth to take them home.

USE PUMP IRRIGATION.

With no water in the Platte available, pump irrigation is being resorted to to save thirty acres of potatoes at the Kearney industrial school, according to Henry Behrens, member of the board of control.

GOES TO ANNAPOLIS.

BAYARD, Neb., June 7 — (AP) — Word has been received here of the appointment of James Ginn, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Ginn of Bayard, to the United States naval academy at Annapolis. Young Ginn has been attending school in the east.

Weather Man Irked

WISHEK, N. D., June 7—(AP)—Gottlieb Herr, weather watcher here is irked no little today. He couldn't make his weather report because a tornado came along and blew his instruments away.

Herr, in charge of the corn and wheat station for the weather bureau, apologized for not having his daily rain and temperature report, but explained he just couldn't find the instruments.

A new set of instruments was on the way down to the vigilant Mr. Herr.

Trustees For Bank Depositors To Be Given Instruction

AURORA, Neb., June 7—(AP)—A declaratory judgment is asked in a petition filed in District court here to test the authority of the Farmers State bank trustees to compromise notes in their hands for collection. The bank was reorganized recently under an agreement with the depositors, the latter agreeing to a 50 per cent write-off. All slow and doubtful assets were taken out of the bank and turned over to the trustees for collection.

The suit was filed by a member of the legal staff of the banking department, naming Fred A. Harrison, Aurora filling station operator and depositor in the bank, as plaintiff, and against Andrew Grosshans, P. C. Krabiel and D. H. Oswald, trustees for the depositors, and the bank itself.

Under the terms of the depositors' agreement, the trustees are doubtful of their legal authority to compromise debts and they are unwilling to proceed further without a court ruling confirming such authority.

BYRON OBERST UNDER ARREST

Former Federal Land Bank Attorney Charged Embezzlement.

OMAHA, June 7—(AP)—With the arrest of Byron B. Oberst, former attorney for the federal land bank of Omaha, here, federal officials revealed that he was named in a 60-page indictment returned by a federal grand jury last week. Assistant United States District Attorney Epperson, who drew the indictment, said it contained 52 counts alleging embezzlement and illegal collection of legal fees and commissions, involving approximately $8,000.

Oberst, 44 years old and a native of North Platte, was an attorney for the land bank from June 1, 1931, to Oct. 1, 1933, when he was discharged and an investigation of his activities ordered by bank officials. Last December 28, he was taken to a hospital after being found overcome by gas in a downtown apartment where he had registered under an assumed name. Jets in the kitchen range were found open.

The indictment against Oberst charges that while attorney for the bank he received numerous checks ranging from $50 to more than $100, made out to himself but the property of the bank. He is accused of cashing them and keeping the money. Most of the checks were from persons doing business with the bank in Iowa towns.

In numerous instances also, the indictment charges, he acted as attorney and accepted fees and commissions from companies doing business with the bank.

Sight Restored To Woman Blind Since Babyhood

SCHUYLER, Neb., June 7—(AP)—For the first time within her memory, Miss Anne Koliha, 27, is seeing the faces of friends and trying to spell out newspaper headlines. The far mgirl returned to her home north of here this week after an operation April 19 at a Marshalltown, Ia., hospital and hopes soon to regain the use of her eyesight completely.

Cataracts were removed from her eyes and her sight is improving daily.

Miss Koliha had been blind since she was 18 months old. Educated in the Braille system, she does not know the meaning of the headlines, but promises herself she will soon learn to read.

The daughter of V. T. Koliha, she has lived several years with a married sister, Mrs. William Bohac.

"I thought it was just another wild goose chase," she said of the trip to Marshalltown, "but I was willing to take a chance."

Now that the operation has proven at least partially successful, she is overjoyed.

WATER RATE DOWN.

COUNTIES SIGN RELIEF PLEDGE

Will Make Full Levies and Thus Obtain Federal Aid.

O'NEILL, Neb., June 7—(AP)—Fourteen of the 15 counties represented in a federal relief conference here today signed agreements to make levies of .93 mills for relief purposes, and the other county was expected to sign up as soon as the papers are presented to the chairman of the county board. Rowland Haynes federal relief agent in Nebraska, told the 70 county supervisors and officials who attended the conference that those counties which decline to co-operate will be barred from further federal aid.

After the conference, group meetings were held with Haynes by counties. Haynes, in the conference, asked that the counties make arrangements to take care of their indigents for the next 14 months.

He said, using Holt county as an example of what share of the burden the federal government has assumed, the federal government had alloted Holt county $87,000 and the county had put up $10,000, which was about half the relief funds spent in this county since the program began. The situation here is typical of most counties, he said.

The counties represented at the meeting were Sherman, Howard, Valley, Greeley, Cedar, Loup, Keya Paha, Thurston, Holt, Boyd, Knox, Rock, Wheeler, Garfield and Brown. Field representatives of the relief administration and district auditors also attended the conference.

Startling price reductions, just announced, place Chevrolet further ahead of its field than ever—in price, quality and value

CHEVROLET In the face of the biggest demand in years, right when the trend toward Chevrolet is at its peak, Chevrolet reduces prices! No wonder America was startled when this news flashed across the country just a few days ago. And now that the public has had a chance to figure out what this price reduction means in terms of greater value, the news becomes even more important than before. Because it means that Chevrolet now offers you a big, substantial, quality car with the famous valve-in-head engine for as little as $465, f. o. b. Flint, Mich.—making it by far the lowest-priced Six in the world. It means that you can get enclosed Knee-Action, Blue-Flame performance, cable-controlled brakes, and all the other big advancements of the day, for as much as $35.00 less than before—and Chevrolet's former prices were already among the lowest of the low. It means, in short, that Chevrolet now presents America with the finest buy the low-price field has ever seen.

CONKLIN SAYS PLAN APPROVED BY GOVERNOR

brought into the testimony for a second time in connection with the chief executive's request that Conklin resign after the "alleged payroll racket" was made public.

The matter was brought up after a meeting of the board of educational land and funds, Conklin testified, saying he and Attorney General Good were asked to remain behind in Bryan's office after other members of the board left.

Conklin testified that Bryan said: "It has been forty-three years since a state officer was tried for misconduct in office, and it will probably be another forty-three years before another is tried. What do you have to say?"

Denies Governor's Charges.

The defendant said he told Bryan he didn't know what misconduct the governor was referring to. Bryan then declared the attorney general's office showed the land commissioner had embezzled money collected from the capitol cafe, the witness declared. "I told him the money collected from the cafe was in the bank," Conklin testified.

Two days later (March 15), Conklin testified, he was again called into Bryan's private office for a meeting at which Good was again present. Conklin sad the governor told hm: "Wth all the rregularities and misconduct in your office, the attorney general and I have thought we should call you down and give you a chance to resign."

Refuses to Resign.

"I denied any irregularities," Conklin continued, "and the governor said I had been taking money from the janitors for a campaign fund. I told him I had once told him about the janitors making up a campaign fund and that he had approved of the idea. The governor denied knowing anything about it.

"Bryan then told me, if I didn't resign, they would have to prosecute me I replied that I couldn't keep them from prosecuting but that I knew there were no irregularities in my office. The governor said that if I didn't resign, it was his duty as chief executive to demand my resignation. The attorney general in turn demanded my resignation."

Conklin said he told the attorney general and governor he had no intention of resigning before seeing his attorneys. He then left the meeting, he testified. The defendant said he was arrested the following day.

Tells of Firing Janitors.

The land commissioner testified his discharge of capitol janitors who testified for the state at the trial was made because the janitors made affidavits to the attorney general's office that they were hired for less than the amount of the warrants they had been drawing. "Deputy State Auditor Ayres came to me and asked me if I would approve warrants made out for a smaller amount than my payroll warrants," Conklin stated. "I made up my mind that if the men would make affidavits to the attorney general's office that they were hired for less than the amount of their warrants I didn't care to have them work for me."

Conklin testified he had received reports complaining about work of some of the janitors late in 1933. He denied having ordered Warner Sutherland moved to the capitol tower because Sutherland had failed to contribute to campaign fund payments. The defendant said Sutherland was shifted because of a complaint by State Game Warden Frank B. O'Connell.

Denial was also made that Earl Tracy was discharged for any reason pertaining to campaign collections or any other reason except for refusal of Tracy to work.

Promised Return Money.

Conklin denied having any definite knowledge that Head Janitor Lane forced janitors to make campaign contributions until he said it was brought to his attention early in March by a delegation of Omaha and Hastings attorneys. The attorneys said the janitors complained Lane was a slave driver and had made the men turn over portions of their salary, Conklin testified. "They demanded I return the money," Conklin testified. "I said I would."

Lane was then called in and discharged, the land commissioner testified. The head janitor denied being overbearing, it was said, but said he would resign if Conklin thought it was for the best interests of harmony among the men.

"I asked him if he kept records of the money collected from the janitors," Conklin continued. "He said he did and brought his account book in at my request. I asked him where the money was. He said it was in Omaha and offered to turn it over to me. I said I had nothing to do with collecting it, and that it could be turned over at the proper time for whatever purpose it was collected.

Paid Men From Own Pocket.

Conklin testified under Beghtol's questioning that he paid some of the janitors out of his own funds, and said others of the janitors had not asked him for money.

Beghtol then launched into lengthy questioning concerning activ lengthy questioning concerning activities of Lester Danielson and Howard Holtzendorff. Conklin contradicted testimony of these two witnesses that they never became indebted to him through the sale of pictures of Governor Bryan and President Roosevelt or through the publication of "The Young Democrat."

Conklin said he advanced money for these enterprises, and testified Holtzendorff and Danielson authorized him to take money from their checks in repayment.

"Did you at any time conceal from Danielson, he was getting $100 a month?" Beghtol asked.

"No," Conklin testified.

Danielson had testified Conklin handed him his warrant face down each month and paid him $55 in cash without Danielson ever seeing the face of the warrant.

Conklin testified both Danielson and Holtzendorff did work for him in addition to their part-time duties as waxers.

The defense today issued a subpoena for Nettie Baker, another employe of the state agriculture department.

J. E. Latsch Elected Head of Lions Club

Jerry E. Latsch was elected president of the Lions club Thursday noon. R. L. Ferguson is vice president and R. V. Koupal was renamed secretary-treasurer.

Hinds was appointed chairman of the Lions golf committee for the inter-civic club tournament. The "On to Columbus" committee for the state convention includes R. D. Woodruff, chairman, Fred R. Easterday and H. R. Jobst. Frank Roehl is chairman of the annual picnic next Wednesday at Capitol Beach.

NEW G.O.P. HEAD PITCHING INTO CAMPAIGN JOB

Fletcher Embraces New Pronouncement Of Policy.

CHICAGO, June 7—(AP)—The republican national committee, met its members today and told them the country must "put on the brakes."

"We've got to bring realization to the people of what is happening in Washington," Fletcher declared as he appeared before the committee for the first time.

"We've got to make them realize what's going to happen to them unless the brakes are put on."

Fletcher praised the committee for the new statement of party policy which it drew up and announced yesterday.

"Under that banner we can win the fall elections and every other election," he declared. "You have united the party, and made it possible for us all to go into the fight thinking we are going to win."

Fletcher arrived this morning to launch the party's campaign to regain prestige in the fall congressional elections, and said he could not discuss plans until he had met with the 21 member executive committee.

Unanimous Choice.

Fletcher, one time Roosevelt rough rider, former ambassador to Italy and a close personal friend of Herbert Hoover, was the unanimous choice of the republican national committee to direct the campaign against the Franklin D. Roosevelt administration and the "new deal."

Fletcher, some western committeemen asserted, has had little practical experience as a politician, having spent the bulk of his public life as a diplomat. Fletcher, however, has long been noted, friends said, for his ability to see a way out of disturbing conditions.

CODE POLICY MODIFICATION IS ANNOUNCED

believes an industry to be threatened with impairment of employment or wage scales; particularly high mortality of enterprises, especially small ones; or panic or other special conditions, the matter shall be turned over to NRA for an analysis upon which a minimum price, representative of the lowest reasonable cost determined by the investigation, shall be fixed. There would be no prohibition against sales at higher prices.

Exclusive of emergency, if a member of an industry is complained against by another firm or customer, the party complained against shall have an opportunity to answer to the code authority, which may make a ruling or adjustment. If either party to the complaint does not agree to the code authority findings, NRA shall decide.

A provision earlier agreed upon among economic advisers to the NRA establishing certain general defenses for price cutting, was stricken from the draft finally approved today.

KANSAS CITY, June 7—(AP)—Miss Phyllis Buchanan, Denver girl defending her trans-Mississippi championship, was defeated in the quarter-finals of the eighth annual tournament today by Mrs. Dan Chandler, Dallas, 2 and 1.

In tomorrow's 18-hole semi-finals Mrs. Chandler plays Mrs. O. S. Hill, Kansas City veteran, who eliminated Mrs. Charles Newbold, Wichita, Kas, 1932 tournament winner, 2 and 1.

The other semi-final match brings together Miss Marion Miley, Lexington, Ky., girl who ousted Miss Aneila Gorczyca, Fort Worth, 1 up, and Miss Lucille Robinson, Des Moines, who defeated Mrs. Leon Solomon, Memphis, Tenn., 3 and 2.

INTANGIBLE TAX LAW IS ARGUED

Attacked In Supreme Court By Number Of Attorneys.

The 1933 intangible tax law—a muddled piece of legislation or a reasonable attempt by the legislature to end abuses and meet unusual economic conditions by legal means. That is the question the Supreme court was asked to settle Thursday as attorneys argued suits to have the law held unconstitutional and void.

J. B. Fradenberg, Omaha attorney, argued the declaratory judgment brought by Moeller, McPherrin & Judd, Omaha accountants, against Sam Greenleaf, Douglas county assessor, and State Tax Commissioner Smith. A. V. Shotwell, Omaha, submitted the case of Cohen Bros., Gretna merchants, in their injunction suit against Sarpy cunty taxing officials.

Assistant Attorney General Daniel Stubbs argued for the defendants, defending the law as having been enacted along principles laid down in previous intangible tax legislation and upheld by the court in previous cases.

The plaintiffs attack the law on the grounds that it is unconstitutional because of defects in its title, it discriminates between different classes of intangible property, classifications are not uniform as to class and the law as a whole is vague and not capable of interpretation or enforcement.

Randolph at 1:25 o'clock reported that it was raining hard there.

Mother Nature was in a capricious mood in the state as she brought rains, cloudbursts, dust storms, high winds and oppressive heat.

Norfolk got a hard shower between 6 and 7 o'clock Thursday morning and the precipitation which measured .13 of an inch brought the two day total to .31. Since June 1, the Associated Press said, that city has received .76 of an inch, which is light compared to other northeastern points.

Grand Island, which has had but little rain since April, continued to swelter under record temperatures. Thermometers there were reading more than 100.

The dry south wind was doing some damage to wilting crops in this section, but the extent of the damage could not be immediately determined. Farmers in the Blue valley in Gage county were optimistically reporting that some wheat fields around DeWitt would make 25 to 30 bushels to the acre.

Forecast Is Unsettled.

The forecast for the state was for unsettled and cooler. The forecast for Lincoln was the same. The weather bureau here pointed out that northern Nebraska was in the low pressure area which had received good rains since Wednesday afternoon.

Rains Widespread.

The weather bureau reported that general rains had fallen during the night all through the northern belt, including Minnesota, Wisconsin and South and North Dakota and as far west as Montana.

Lincoln's few drops late Wednesday totalled .01 of an inch, weather officials said, but the mercury slid down from a high of 99 to a low of 70 in a very short time. The clouds broke up and vanished by 7 o'clock in the evening.

The best rain report was from Rogers, Neb., which had four inches in a two and one-half hour downpour. Other heavy rains fell at Columbus, Fremont, Omaha and between Kearney and Schuyler.

Rain figures for Wednesday and Thursday included:

Fullerton	.10	Oakdale	.80
O'Neill	.68	Plattsmouth	.50
Fremont	.81	Ulysses	.25
Schuyler	2.00	David City	.50
Omaha	.90	Bellevue	1.00
Valentine	.66	Columbus	2.11
Sioux City	.36	Bellwood	2.00
Louisville	2.00	Cedar Creek	1.50
Wahoo	.75	South Bend	.60
Winnebago	1.50	Yutan	1.00
Wakefield	.75	Spencer	.25
Alliance	.05	Tekamah	.53
Wayne	.55	Norfolk	.71
Hartington	1.21	Laurel	.60
West Point	1.00	Randolph	.50

Rains General Northeast.

From Sioux City to O'Neill good rains fell centering around Plainview. The rains seemed to be general in the northeast section and in the central section the rains seemed to be following the Platte river. Nebraska City had a light rain and in the Casper division of the Burlington good showers fell over the entire division.

In the western section of the state, heavy clouds were overhanging and good west winds were blowing, Burlington reports said. The United Air Lines also reported the western end of the state as cloudy.

The heavy dust storm which swept into Scottsbluff Wednesday night seemed to have subsided Thursday morning and temperatures all over that end of the state were down in the seventies. In the eastern sections, the average at 8 o'clock was about 88, the Lincoln Telephone and Telegraph company reported. The 8 o'clock reading in Lincoln was 83, reaching that point from 77 at 6 o'clock and 78 at 7 o'clock.

Following the dust storm at Scottsbluff a good shower fell and the weather turned cooler. Little crop damage was reported.

At Millard, the Associated Press reported, a few trees were blown down by a high wind following a rain. No serious damage was reported. At Sidney, destructive hot winds were at work Wednesday, but it was cooler Thursday.

EARLY LINCOLN PIONEER DIES

a farm west of what is now the state farm. A few years later she was married to William H. Schmale, who has been dead for 23 years.

A sister of Mrs. Schmale, Mrs. Amanda Thompson, one of the family of eight who came across the plains in a covered wagon, was a school teacher here in 1866. She later moved to California where she died some years ago.

In about 1870 she moved to a farm near Emerald where she lived for nearly 45 years. Twenty years ago she moved back to Lincoln where she had since made her home. She was a member of the El-Deen club and a life long member of the Methodist church.

She is survived by two daughters, Ida and Minnie Schmale of Lincoln; a son, Charles M. Schmale of Emerald; a brother, E. J. Otto of Lincoln; two sisters, Mrs. Etta Pagenstecher of Cleveland, O., and Mrs. A P. Kelly of North Platte, a grandchild and several nieces and nephews.

The body is at Hodgman's.

MRS. CATHERINE M'GERR TO FILE

Another daughter, Mrs. Betty MacKinnon, also lives in Washington. The three are graduates of the University of Nebraska. The fourth daughter, Miss Patricia, is a student at Trinity college there, but will enter the university here this fall.

In a statement announcing her candidacy, Mrs. McGerr said:

"For two years I lived in Washington and sat in the galleries of the house and senate during the last three sessions of congress and watched how our laws are made. I have attended all the important hearings and committee meetings bearing on important bills, listened to the testimony given by the Morgans, Whitneys, Mitchells, Lindbergh and many others.

"I think I know what is going on in Washington and I have come home to tell the people of Nebraska and particularly the women in what way conditions may be changed and why our representatives have failed.

"We are going through a great crisis and the women have a great part to play if we are coming through successfully. The present crisis is a war against an intangible enemy of want and depression, against greed and selfishness and dishonesty, and I hold that in this present crisis it is going to be the women who will tip the scares and bring us safely out of it."

Mrs. Gerr declared that "all that is required is that we use our intelligence and not be misled by selfish politicians," to correct existing social and economic injustice.

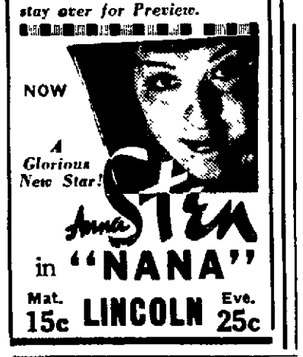

"Organize and present the facts directly to our president who has been given the power to act and I am certain has the will to use that power in the interest of all America," she urged.

"There is plenty in the country, sufficient food clothing and shelter for all. What have we failed to do? We have permitted a small number of greedy speculators to dictate the whole social system, to dictate our elections to control our legislature, executive tribunals and courts.

"I know how frugally the families of the farmers of the wage earners of the small business operatives and numerous others dependong upon earnings of their own are living."

HARRY CONKLIN SAYS JANITORS STARTED FUND

Official First Witness In Own Defense In Conspiracy Trial.

State Land Commissioner Harry P. Conklin declared from the witness stand in his trial in District court Wednesday afternoon that he never conspired with his deputy, J. H. Wehn, his former head capitol janitor, George Lane, or with anyone else to defraud the state of Nebraska by means of fraudulent payrolls.

Conklin, who took the witness chair as the first defense witness after Judge Frost overruled motions of the defendant's counsel for a directed verdict and to force the prosecution to rely on one of the twelve counts, declared that a plan whereby capitol janitors contributed to a campaign fund for Conklin was conceived among their own number. The land commissioner denied using any force or threats to obtain contributions to the fund.

Larson Tells Fund Source.

The land commissioner's recital was interrupted when County Attorney Max G. Towle objected to Conklin telling what Lane and E. J. Larson of Beatrice, another of the former janitors, said in a conversation which Conklin claimed was the first information he had of the campaign fund. Defense Attorney Max V. Beghtol then withdrew the defendant from the stand temporarily and put Larson on to tell his story.

Larson testified he was the first one to think of a campaign fund among the janitors for Conklin's benefit. He communicated his plan to Lane, he testified. Later the suggestion was talked over in an apartment where Lane, Larson, Gerald Hinchey, Leo Lukowski and other janitors were living, the witness claimed. Larson declared Hinchey and Lukowski "silently agreed" to the plan and to Larson's suggestions that Lane act as collector of the fund Hinchey and Lukowski both testified as state's witnesses that they never heard of an association among the janitors for voluntary contributions.

Conklin was then replaced on the stand for further direct examination by Beghtol. The direct examination had not been completed at the close of the afternoon session.

Describes Career.

Conklin's testimony was opened with a detailed description of his early life, beginning with his birth in a railway station at Carroll, his public and high school education at Central City, and his entry into business as a janitor at $25 a month for a Council Bluffs wholesale drug firm. Beginning in 1908, Conklin was given a sales territory in western Nebraska with headquarters first at North Platte and later at Scottsbluff. He remained with the drug firm until his candidacy in 1932 for land commissioner except for two years in the army.

The land commissioner testified that when he took office he chose Wehn, who lived at Bridgeport, as his deputy because of Wehn's knowledge of the value of state school lands in the western part of the state. Lane was employed, he testified, on the recommendation of Francis Matthews, Douglas county democratic central committee chairman, and recommendations of other prominent Omaha democrats.

The first janitorial payroll after Conklin entered office was prepared by Bert Anderson, an employe of the previous administration, the defendant testified. Afterwards, Conklin's secretary, Miss Ella Bickert, made up the payrolls, he said.

After this introductory evidence, Attorney Beghtol asked, "When did you first hear of a campaign fund?" Beghtol and Towle engaged in a brief verbal tilt across the table before the defense attorney withdrew Conklin and called Larson as a witness.

Told Conklin of Plan.

Larson testified that after the voluntary contribution system, which he claims was entered into, was perfected, he and Lane told Conklin about the plan. "We told him we were doing it in gratitude," Larson related, adding that he had been required to make campaign contributions when he was an employe under a previous administration. "Mr. Conklin seemed to appreciate it, and said it was O. K. as far as he was concerned," the witness testified.

On cross-examination, County Attorney Towle asked Larson: "Didn't you in April of this year have a talk with Attorney General Good, and his assistant, Mr. Wright, in which you stated it was Mr. Conklin's idea to get up a campaign fund, and that he had asked you to be the collector but you had refused?"

Larson admitted visiting the attorney general's office in April, but denied making such a statement.

Towle continued. "Didn't you say also at that time that Conklin even offered to make you head janitor if you would be the collector?"

"Certainly not," Larson answered.

Taking the stand again, Conklin testified that when Lane and Larson told him of the claimed voluntary plan, he said to the janitors: "It's all right with me. I wouldn't say it was necessary. There was no understanding when you were given the jobs that you would have to contribute to campaigns."

"Did you ever have anything to do with the campaign fund money?" Beghtol asked.

"Not to my knowledge," Conklin answered.

Q. Did you ever conspire with Wehn, Lane or anyone else to defraud the state by means of fraudulent payrolls?

A. No.

Q. When you cashed warrants for the janitors, did you ever defraud any of the men?

A. Not to my knowledge.

STRANGE AS IT SEEMS— By John Hix

The strangest marine museum in the world is located in Seattle, Wash., where the specimens are exhibited just as they came from the water. They are neither stuffed nor embalmed, intense cold is the only preservative used—and it keeps the exhibits in an uncannily natural appearance.

The museum was started 10 or 12 years ago when a fisherman brought in an enormous sunfish which he had caught. The fish was mounted in the cold room of the Spokane Street Terminal. The idea took with other fishermen and ever since then when an unusual or rare fish or other marine creature is taken it generally becmes an addition to the frozen museum.

On display are dozens of various strange fish not often seen, a sea lion, hair and fur seals, octipi, dog fish, flying fish, sleeper sharks, sea poachers, grunt fish, singing fish, stingerees, rat fish—even a young whale is on display. Altogether there are about 300 exhibits.

The remarkable display draws thousands of overcoated sightseers to the terminal annually.

Egypt's female "king," Hat-shepsut, was the daughter of Thotmes I, sister and queen of Thotmes II, after whom she came into power and declared herself "king." She wore an artificial beard and caused her images to be masculine. As a warrior she failed, however, and military inactivity of her reign cost Egypt its power in Asia. Succeeding monarchs discredited her, and caused her name to be struck from her temples.

RECORD SCHOOL FUND EXPECTED

Hall Thinks Total To Exceed $500,000 By July 1.

State Treasurer George E. Hall hopes to have on hand by July 1, or soon thereafter, in the temporary school fund of Nebraska the largest amount of money for the next semi-annual apportionment to the public schools of the state which has been distributed to them at any time during the past three years.

His monthly report just issued shows over $460,000 in that fund at the close of May, with substantial additional revenue expected in June. However, $20,000 of this will be needed to take up old warrants against the last January apportionment which have not yet been offered for payment, and another $10,000 is being held aside pending the state Supreme court's decision as to the constitutionality of a legislative act requiring tuition for children of army and navy officers and enlisted men to be paid out of the school fund.

After deducting these amounts, there is a net balance of $430,000 now available for the July school apportionment. In June a year ago collection for the temporary school fund came to $78,000. An equal sum of revenue this month would raise the total on hand July 1 to $508,000. Treasurer Hall believes the amount by that date will be even larger.

It is necessary to go back to July, 1931, for another state school allotment that exceeded half a million dollars. At that time $516,000 was distributed among the schools.

Last January the sum apportioned was $463,000, in round numbers; in July a year ago, $424,000; for January, 1933, the payments touched low water mark at $397,000; and in July, 1932, the total was $450,000.

Revenue for the temporary school fund is derived chiefly from interest on investments of the permanent school fund and from rentals on state school lands. These principal items are augmented by fines, license moneys, and other special receipts.

SOME GOOD WHEAT YIELDS EXPECTED

(Special to The Star.)

BEATRICE, Neb., June 7—Farmers living in the Blue valley between here and DeWitt say that with favorable weather conditions there are a few pieces of wheat that will yield from 25 to 30 bushels to the acre. The grain has ripened fast the last week and will be ready to harvest in a few days.

ASSENMACHER TO GET CONTRACT

Agreement Reached On Water Purifying Plant Project.

The W. J. Assenmacher Co. Monday will be awarded by the city council the general contract for the construction of a manganese removal and purification plant at the Ashland pumping station on a bid of $152,500.

The council will award the contracts for the filtration plant and the pumping equipment. The Roberts Filter Co. of Darby, Pa., probably will get the filter contract, with the award of the pumps resting between the Olson Construction Co. of Lincoln, Fairbanks-Morse Co., Milwaukee, and Allis Chalmers Co., of Chicago, officials said.

To Work 24 Hours Per Day.

Under the provisions of the contract which will be awarded to Mr. Assenmacher, he will be required to employ enough men to continue operations 24 hours per day, for which he is to be allowed an additional $8,200. The conditions, he told members of the water board, city council and engineers, are satisfactory. His base bid was $144,300.

For the pumps, the Olson Construction Co., submitted offers of $10,450, and $8,696; Allis Chalmers, $9,745 and; Fairbanks-Morse, $8,970. Either of the three low bids, and the $35,240 bid by the Roberts Filter Co., will bring the total cost of the plant slightly below the $200,000 estimated by City Engineer D. L. Erickson.

Decision by the city council to award the general contract to the Assenmacher company was reached only after a conference of more than two hours Wednesday afternoon, attended by the members of the water board, city council, he engineers and Mr. Assenmacher. The latter earlier in the day asked that his bid be withdrawn.

At the conference he explained that his base bid, which was about $23,000 lower than any other, was faulty because of his having made an error of about $16,000 in figuring concrete that would be required. The difference was verified by the engineers.

At times the discussion on allowing Mr. Assenmacher to withdraw was somewhat heated. F. D. Eager and L. M. Troup of the water advisory board contending that in as much as the offer was on the engineer's estimate on the building, Mr. Assenmacher should not be excused. "I believe Assenmacher can do the job and come out on that bid," Mr. Eager said when he made the motion placing the advisory group on record as favoring holding the contractor to his proposal. "I am certain he can do the work without a loss." Mr. Troup said. Mr. Eager, Mr. Troup and H. K. Burket, chairman, voted aye. Members J. E. Miller and C. B. Towle passed.

First Asked New Bids.

For a time Mr. Miller and Mr. Towle insisted upon rejecting all bids, advertise again and "throw competition open to the world." Mr. Eager and others expressed similar views at times, as did City Attorney Max Kier, when possible legal entanglements developed.

The specifications on which the bids were received confined everything to Lincoln as much as possible, and fixed the common labor scale at 40 cents per hour.

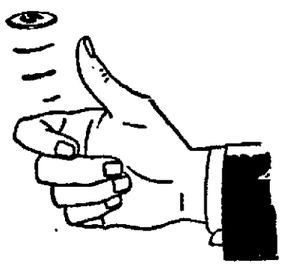

City Engineer opposed advertising again. The pump and filter bids are "exceptionally good," he said. "If we advertise for new offers, there is danger that we will not get quotations as low again."

Willow Lake Is Dry As Drouth Destroys Sandhills Water Areas

Willow lake, one of the largest of the sandhill lakes, is dry and other lakes are disappearing rapidly, sucked dry by the merciless drouth, Frank O'Connell, state game warden, reported today.

Willow lake was a 400-acre body of water in Cherry county heavily stocked with fish. O'Connell said the fish moved down into the lower lakes, which are likewise failing as the drouth continues.

He said that reports reaching him reveal that the sandhill lakes are rapidly drying up and that unless rains bring relief shortly the situation will be serious.

ANOTHER SAN JUAN.

IT WAS the scion of a distinguished American fighter, who led the republican party up another San Juan hill in Chicago Wednesday.

Back of the scenes, for the most part obscured from public view, was young Teddy Roosevelt, eldest son of the former president. As the representative of the young republicans of America, it was young Teddy—sans the toothful smile, the bully back slap, the strident voice, and the aggressive manner, which brooked no interference—who dictated the selection of Henry P. Fletcher of Pennsylvania, as chairman of the republican national committee, and who, in the main, was responsible for the drafting of the platform which in tone was reminiscent vaguely of the Bull Moose rebellion of 1912. We say vaguely—for the language was there, but the spirit was lacking.

All the time that the republican representatives were going over to a declaration for a new social philosophy as an expression of party principles, the industrial bloc, which had given a conservative view to the party to such an extent that even old Mark Hanna and Boise Penrose would have been considered wild-eyed radicals, possessed the votes to write a rigid program in line with the Harding-Coolidge-Hoover era. It did not dare. The fleshpots of public office were calling so loudly that some concession had to be made to the middle western sentiment, described a few years ago by the eminent George Moses as "the brayings of the sons of wild jackasses." And so the concession was made. With it an accepted fact, the only question now is whether it means anything.

Mr. Fletcher becomes the head man. He fought with the late Colonel in the smoke, perspiration, groans, and whining bullets of San Juan hill. He fought by the side of his colonel in 1912, when the uprising under the elder Roosevelt split the grand old party so widely that even a democrat, Woodrow Wilson, could walk in, untouched and unscathed. The assumption is that Chairman Fletcher is a liberal, the only doubt arising from the fact is that the cohorts of the now deposed republican Pennsylvania boss, Bill Vare, were active in Mr. Fletcher's behalf. And it also appears that Chairman Fletcher was acceptable, to croaking "Oggie" Mills, supposed to be Mr. Hoover's semaphore, and to young Teddy himself, of whom it should be said he is but a sickly shadow of his vigorous, dynamic Dad.

* * *

THEN there is the platform. It inclines first to the right, and then bends to the left, but wonder of wonders, when the whole squall is over, the tree may be found pointing unmistakably to the right.

First, it should be noted the party goes on record in affirming its devotion to American ideals. It bemoans the debt which has been saddled upon youth. Then, the nearly forgotten Dr. Wirt reappears, and sounds a warning that American institutions are in deadly danger from the covert ambitions of a small group of Washington plotters. These paragraphs follow:

"Progress, liberty, and democracy go hand in hand. Even if by tyranny, government could assure material well being which it cannot, it is too heavy a price to pay. Given liberty of expression, and of action, people are better able to find a solution for their problems than any group of autocrats. We must not see destroyed in four years a civilization which has been centuries in building, and which has brought to our nation, greater progress, well being, and happiness than has ever been enjoyed by any nation, any time, any where. We believe in freedom of speech, and in the freedom of the press, and in the freedom of the radio for the discussion of national questions. We believe in an economic system based upon individual initiative, and the maintenance of competition, checked by government regulations, not in an economic system based upon bureaucratic control and bureaucratic management. We are opposed to revolutionary change without popular mandate—and all change by usurpation the customary weapon by which free governments are destroyed. We believe that the present emergency law of investing dictatorial powers in the president never must be permitted to become a permanent part of our governmental system. We believe in our federal form of government with its system of state and local responsibilities. We believe that we cannot spend our way to prosperity."

"Our nation is beset with problems of infinite complexity—the problems of unemployment with its unending tale of human suffering; of recovery; of agriculture with its lost markets and relatively low prices, of forever checking abuses and excesses that have become all too apparent; and thereafter the problems of a wider spread of prosperity, of relieving the hardships of unemployment and old age, and of avoiding these tragic depressions. These problems must be approached in a broad, liberal, and progressive spirit, unhampered by dead formulas or too obstinately clinging to the past. Our country has been backward in legislation dealing with social questions. We welcome the recognition that these problems demand attention by government."

* * *

WELL, there it is, brother, and what does it mean?

If confession is good for the soul, and they say it is, a chastened, regenerate republicanism comes before the country. Looking backward over twelve years, it says we have been backward in giving social problems consideration. It speaks of unemployment and of old age, and suggests that something should be done about it, but does not specify the ways and means. It speaks of a wider distribution of prosperity, which, if it recalls its own voice in 1928, has all the ear marks of a dirty crack. There is one way of obtaining a wider distribution of wealth, and it is being followed today.

But it is hot, brother, and fall days are a long way off. For the time being, let us be content to recognize that another Roosevelt, led the republicans up another San Juan.

SIR ROBERT GROVE.

A RATHER pathetic spectacle was enacted in the Yankee stadium in New York Wednesday. There was Sir Robert Grove, the fireball king of the American league, dishing 'em up for the Boston Red Sox. In four innings, the Yankees had sent him to cover under a withering barrage of base hits.

It isn't right.

For years, Grove was the pride of every baseball enthusiast. What happened to him between last season and this spring only the wise men know, but he lost his bullet speed, with which he mowed down opposing batters with monotonous regularity. There is no pleasure in seeing an idol smashed. There is no fun in reading of Grove's humiliation. It was known the time would come when age would take its toll, and it comes quickly in the punishing game of baseball, but the hope persisted that before Grove lost his sparkle as one of the greatest figures of all times, he would retire, still the lusty star of his youth.

TREATING THEM ALL ALIKE.

ANOTHER example of British justice playing no favorites is found in the prosecution of Kaye Don, well known to Americans as the former challenger for the Farnsworth trophy in speed yacht racing, now held in this country. Because Mr. Don went out a few weeks ago and burned up the highways at 80 miles an hour, while practicing for automobile races, and sustained an accident which resulted in the death of his mechanic, he is now called upon to answer a criminal charge of manslaughter.

Personal or political prominence, the possession of a title or of great wealth, is not sufficient in England to relieve anyone of the consequences of his acts. Even members of the royal family, while occupying a different status from other persons, cannot go out and violate the laws with impunity. Their conduct, in fact, must be exemplary in order to avoid harsh criticism in the press and elsewhere.

In the United States there is less disposition now than formerly to overlook offenses of persons high up in the social or governmental scale. The Insull case is proof that the hand of the law is not always stayed here in moving to bring such individuals to account. But American jurisprudence has a long way yet to go before it can claim to approximate the evenhanded quality that has long characterized the enforcement of laws in Britain.

Probably the most marked difference between the two countries is seen in the outburst of popular indignation and the quick capture of a law violator who shot and wounded a London policeman when the latter undertook to arrest him. Over here, we are so accustomed to outlaws killing officers of the law, as well as private citizens, and getting away with it, that it is sensational news when one of them is slain in turn, or captured and made to suffer for his crimes.

WEATHER SUGGESTIONS.

(Written in the heat.)

JUST to make it easier for the public, the weather reporter of The Star has compiled a list of helpful suggestions for the hot weather and drouth. And weather you like it or not—here it is or here they are:

To cause it to rain:
1.—Wash car.
2.—Wash windows.
3.—Wear white suit to ball game.
4.—Plan family reunion picnic.

To cause it to stop raining:
1.—Plant wheat.
2.—Plant corn.
3.—Plant anything.
4.—Wear a raincoat.

To withstand the heat:
1.—Think about the blizzard of 18-something.
2.—Close your eyes and walk across O street at 5 o'clock.

If that doesn't help you, citizens, remember that it it isn't the heat, it's the stupidity.

FORAGE CROPS.

THE Nebraska farmer has been awakened by the protracted drouth to the acute necessity of planting forage crops. Reports from all sections, including this state, indicate a shortage of desirable feed for livestock.

P. H. Stewart, extension agronomist at the college of agriculture, points out that grain and forage sorghums can be planted successfully until June 10 or later and make good crops. Farmers over the state are showing a disposition to increase the acreages of these crops, due to the fact they will produce larger yields than corn under possible unfavorable weather conditions.

Tests completed a year ago reveal that one variety of forage sorghum yielded about 16 tons per acre, while corn made only five. Grain sorghums were equally satisfactory. On the Kansas City market, milo and kalo, otherwise grain sorghums, were worth 80 to 90 cents per hundred this week.

THE JOHNSON BILL.

NEVILLE CHAMBERLAIN, chancellor of the British exchequer, uses the Johnson bill as an excuse for covering up the British default on its debt owing America. He gives it such a positive twist that the British press, traditionally jealous of national honor, is lavish in its praise of the government's failure to honor its obligation.

It appears the Johnson bill was a sorry blunder. It brands a nation which makes only partial payment with the same iron which it applies to the recalcitrant defaulter. In the case of the British, it cost Uncle Sam at least $7,500,000, which is not much but which nevertheless would be mighty welcome. The British had planned to make another "token" payment, at the same time asking for a discussion of the entire debt.

It is difficult to blame the British for resenting the fact that under the Johnson bill, they are accorded the same treatment and recognition as any nation which makes no effort to pay, and which has been in default for a much longer period of time. The mischief has been done, and in view of the state of popular mind, is beyond control.

SUPER-ALCHEMY.

INTRODUCING Element, No. 93.

Its artificial creation was announced in Rome last week by Dr. Enrico Fermi, who explains that a new kind of matter that never had existed in the entire universe before, is now with us, thanks to science. Its significance, he points out, is that in addition to the ninety-two elements, or "fundamental building blocks made by nature, and out of which everything in the universe is built, man has now made an additional synthetic of his own." He has improved on nature by making something that presumably nature never was smart enough to compound.

We have Dr. Fermi's word for it, that until now, there were ninety-two elements, and that everything from the human body to the stars is made up of different combinations of few or many of these elements.

Dr. Fermi was able to take uranium, heretofore the heaviest known element, add to it a few neutrons, tiny particles fired with tremendous energy, and finally by finishing off with hydrogen, and have, lo and behold, not uranium, but the unknown No. 93.

We hope it is good for both the drouth and the depression.

AHA! WHO CAUSED THE DROUTH?

WELL, boys, the war is as good as started. We only superficially care about Manchukuo, our resentment of cheap exportations from the land of the rising sun is relatively mild, but drouth—that's a fighting word.

Japan has been blamed for a lot of things. The worst has just been learned. Oceanographers — you know, those bugs that study ocean currents and tides and such stuff—are inclined to blame the drouth in midwest U. S. upon a shift in the Japanese current.

We don't know where the Japanese current is. We presume it's water. We've heard that currents like the Gulf stream influence weather. And we like weather, lots of it.

We don't know whether the Japanese intentionally moved that current, but we do know it's out of place. What are they going to do about it?

We'll give 'em 2 hours and 8 minutes to act, or else.

QUESTION.
Evanston, Ill.

What can I do for my son who is twelve years of age and quite advanced for his years but who needs to be more with boys of his own age?

ANSWER.

Put him in the nearest troop of Boy Scouts or De Molay. There he will be taught by precept and example that honesty, sincerity and fairness are life's foundations. Self-command will marshal his growing powers and show him that self-control and self-direction are the secrets of personal and collective progress. Self-reliance, involving confidence and courage, protect him from becoming a weakling or a blind follower of the crowd. Faithfulness in much or little covers his loyalty to duty and makes him dependable in workmanship of every kind. Goodwill, which desires for others the best he has for himself, prevents him from leanness of soul and meanness of outlook. Reverence for age, chivalry toward womanhood, regard for every one, and quickness to give service without thought of reward are the ideals of Scout and De-Molay discipline and training.

These constitute the code which is practiced not only by the Boy Scouts but by the De Molay and like organizations. In no age has the boy been more carefully studied and provided for than in our own, and if parents would more generously support the organizations in question we should make greater headway in eliminating juvenile delinquency.

But you must realize no outside association can take the place of your domestic life. How do you stand on matters of work and play, morals and religion? If your personal conduct is an inspiration and a strength your son will be fortified against the assaults of evil. Don't preach at him, live for him, and he will yet live for you and his fellows.

QUESTION.
Harrisburg, Pa.

I have a relative who is clean gone on spiritualism. What do you think of it?

ANSWER.

My conception of it is influenced by my religious beliefs. Christianity has never doubted survival after death. If a medium had never spoken and a seance had never been held the Christian's faith in life beyond the grave would be exactly what it is. For him spiritualism is an entirely superfluous and occasionally mischievous intervention.

It has always been different in the East. Buddha and Confucius declined to speculate on the possibilities of a future existence. Hinduism concerned itself with the ultimate absorption of individual souls into Brahma as the source of life. But the New Testament teachings resisted the occultism which is embodied in spiritualism. Nevertheless, it runs through the beliefs of primitive ages and peoples, and is rooted in long buried civilizations.

Too often its advocates advance their arguments for it coupled with a demand that the scientist or the theologian shall answer them. This is hardly warranted, since the burden of proof rests on the advocates of spiritualism. Neither the scientist nor the theologian is obliged to reconstruct his knowledge on the inadequate, fragmentary and unproved data adducted in behalf of spiritualism.

Obviously we expect communications from a higher realm to be on a lofty plane and to transmit creative thoughts such as have emanated from earth's greatest minds. Instead spiritualism's alleged communications have been of a uniformly low order. In this connection read the book entitled "Raymond," and consider the ridiculous and sophomoric trivalities therein set forth as evidence supporting spiritualism's claims. Any intelligent person will at once ask the question why the silence was broken at all if nothing better could be said by these supposed spirits.

I shall not refer to the fraudulent practices of various mediums except to say that there is no forgiveness for such treachery when dealing with a matter charged with so much grief or joy for those who have lost their loved ones. My own belief is that God intends human beings to live one life at a time, and also that their present discharge of life's obligations determines their right (or the forfeiture of that right) to more life hereafter.

QUESTION.
Trenton, N. J.

I have a marked tendency to exaggerate which gets me into difficulties now and then. What can one do to correct this fault?

Practice deliberate understatement until you have acquired the habit of approximately correct statement. Do not imitate the preacher, who when rebuked by his bishop for his propensity to magnify, replied, "I am aware of it, and I have shed buckets full of tears over it." The habit was evidently exceedingly strong in his case, despite episcopal censure.

Some people have a flair for calling every gull a swan and every molehill a mountain. Orientals are notorious for this practice; hence the heavy discounting of their evidence as to the facts of any particular occurrence. Among the virtues the Bible exalts is stern, austere truthfulness. Its majesty resembles that of the great mountains. The resemblance includes the difficulty of being strictly accurate. Yet, whatever the cost, truth's heights should be climbed by every one, and those who refuse to make the ascent incur the contempt of their fellows.

No character is more thoroughly despised than that of the liar, and no habit is more distasteful than that of chronic exaggeration which is closely akin to lying. The Scriptures insist that false witness is an abomination to God, and among those excluded from the Holy City is everyone who "liveth and maketh a lie." You can overcome your profuse imagination, and when you do it will be pleasant to discover that the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth is infinitely more marvelous and fascinating than romancing at its best. If you doubt this study the ascertained results of modern science. Its actual liars like Baron Munchausen look verities make historic or literary very amateurish.

Diet and Health

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D., Author of "THE HUMAN BODY"

"TENNIS ELBOW" IS CAUSED BY STRAIN, DO NOT NEGLECT

Several years ago a surgeon in Boston, who was an extremely enthusiastic tennis player, found that he was unable to continue playing tennis because of pain on the outer side of the elbow. The pain was located in a small spot just where one can feel the bone on the outer side of the elbow. It hurt especially when the doctor tried to do such things as take hold of a glass of water. He could hardly hold the glass firmly long enough to get it to his mouth. Naturally he could not play tennis any more because grasping the racket was impossible.

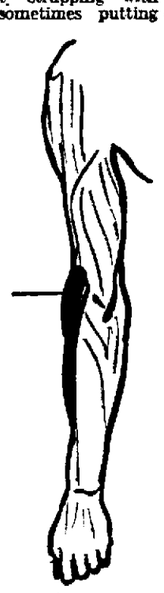

Dr. Clendening

He thought at first it was a small fracture or chip off the bone, but several X-rays taken in many positions failed to show any such disease. Finally, after several weeks of trying to get better with mild treatments, he decided to have it opened up surgically. One of his friends did the work for him and it was done under local anaesthesia. He insisted on this so that he could look into the joint himself.

The only thing that was found was chronic inflammation with a thickened bursa just under the insertion of the extensor corpi radialis longior muscle. This bursa was removed and the patient recovered.

During his convalescence he found a number of people who had had the same thing, and described it under the name of "tennis elbow." Tennis elbow is due to strain and chronic irritation at the point mentioned, because in grasping the racket this muscle is put upon tension, and as it moves back and forth over the surfaces above the joint, it may pull the tissues and rub the tissues so that a chronic inflammation results.

The symptoms are characteristic, with localized pain and inability to grasp objects firmly with the hand. Treatment is usually satisfactory without resorting to the radical operative procedure to which the surgeon mentioned submitted himself. Heat, rest, strapping with adhesive tape, sometimes putting on a plaster cast, and later on when pain is not so severe, massage will usually clear up most cases.

The condition is not entirely confined to tennis players, and frequently I find golf players with the same thing. In fact, I had a golf elbow myself last year which prevented any enjoyment of the game, because just at the crucial point in the swing, if I may call it such, the pain became so severe as to spoil the performance. Of course, some of my humorous friends told me that my form was a good deal better during the period of golf elbow than at any time, but we may disregard sneers of that kind.

One of the most important things about the condition no matter how acquired, is that it should not be disregarded. Especially it should not be called "just a little rheumatism" and an attempt made to drive the rheumatism away by exercise, manipulation, etc. To continue to play golf or tennis after having acquired an athlete's elbow is to court permanent crippling.

Just Folks

A WORD FOR GRANDMA.

Mother knows that pie and cake
Make our little stomachs ache,
And we often hear her say,
"That is quite enough today!
More will surely make you ill.
Run away now and be still."
But at grandma's we can take
All we want of chocolate cake.

Mother knows we mustn't eat
Much of anything too sweet,
And she watches us to see
Just how careful we can be.
When there's candy, she will say:
"One or two's enough today."
But at grandma's we can eat
Loads of anything that's sweet.

Mother knows that children must
Drink their milk and eat their crust
And she tells us right along
We need spinach to be strong.
So she makes us eat a lot
Of the stuff we'd rather not.
But at Grandma's that's not so.
It may be she doesn't know.

PEOPLE'S FORUM

(Forum communications to The Lincoln Star should be limited to 500 words. The letters to this department represent the individual views of the writers and may or may not express the views of this newspaper.)

Have Faith in God.

GENEVA, Neb., June 5.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: I have read in different papers various reasons why we do not get rain. I would like to give my opinion as to the cause.

First, I will take you back in history, as far back as when Moses was leader of his band. You remember reading when Moses' people obeyed God's laws they were happy, healthy and had plenty, but as they began to prosper they began to forget God and drifted away more and more year after year, until they found themselves lost in sin, sadness, sickness and famine.

Then they humbly came back to God and asked His forgiveness and were again taken under His tender care.

Down through history you will see that just this has happened time after time and now we come down to 1934 and find we, as a nation, have forgotten God and are disobeying His laws. You ask what are God's laws. It will help the people to dig out their Bibles from the dark closet shelf and study up. Exodus: 20; Matthew: 5, 6, 7; and Matthew 22: 37-40.

Then each individual sit down and check up, see how far you have missed the mark. God is the one great spirit and each individual has a soul which is a part of God. God is love and does not want His people to suffer, but He can not help it if most of the people are living contrary to His laws.

God is life and life is what we need in our fields, our pastures and our gardens. Where or what is our soul? Some say "Get your heart right with God." Your heart, as is your stomach, an organ of the body. I say your soul is your mind or your thoughts. So check up also on your thoughts. Have they been thoughts of love, kindness and charity for those around you?

How long since you have sought the Lord Thy God in prayer? Read what the Book tells us about prayer. John 16: 23-24. Matthew 21:22. II Chronicles 7:14. I Timothy 2: 8. Psalms 55:17.

When we each and every one get in tune with God, remembering we are His children and He is our Father, when we obey His laws, when we seek Him daily in earnest prayer, when we walk and talk with Him daily and not just sit in church for one hour on Sunday, then we will have rain.

Burgess Bedtime Stories

BY THORNTON W. BURGESS.

The Missing Voice

A single note dropped from a bar
The finest symphony will mar.
—Old Mother Nature.

There was something missing at the Smiling Pool. Yes, sir, there was something missing. All the little people who live there or who visit there were aware of it without realizing just what it was. The joyous spring chorus had been started very early in the spring by Peeper the Hyla and his relatives, and it had been a joyous sound. Then Sticktoes the Tree Toad, who really is a Frog, had added his trill and that chorus had been better than ever. Later still Old Mr. Toad had reached the Smiling Pool from Farmer Brown's garden and added the sweet notes of his music-bag. Redwing the Blackbird and Little Friend the Song Sparrow joined in with the sweetest of solos, and it seemed as if the gladsome symphony of the Smiling Pool was perfect. Yet all the time every one was conscious that something was missing.

And then one soft evening just at dusk, when the chorus was in full swing, another voice, a deep, heavy voice, joined in. "Chuga-rum, Chuga-rum," came the voice from over among the young lily-pads, and just for a second all the singers stopped. Then they resumed singing with even more enthusiasm than before, for it had come to each what it was that had been missing in the great chorus—the voice of Grandfather Frog the Bullfrog. Yes, sir, that was what had been missing. It was that deep bass voice of his that had been needed.

"I knew something was wrong, but what it was I couldn't think," said Peeper the Hyla. "Now I can leave the Smiling Pool, for I no longer will feel that I must stay to lead the chorus. Grandfather Frog will do that."

"He is late this year," said Stickytoes. "The old fellow must have overslept. I never knew him to be so late before. I suppose we should go pay our respects to him."

"I suppose we should," replied Peeper, "but at a distance. Grandfather Frog is no respector of persons when he is hungry, not even of his own relatives. I'll tell him I am glad to hear his voice, but I'll keep my distance."

"The same with me," replied Sticktoes. "Grandfather Frog has too big a mouth."

"And too big an appetite," added Peeper.

There were others who were interested when they heard the deep voice of Grandfather Frog. It happened that Longlegs the Heron was fishing at the other end of the Smiling Pool. "Ha!" exclaimed Longlegs. "So Old Big-Mouth is awake at last. It is about time. I'll pay him a visit soon, but not tonight. It will be just as well if he doesn't know that I am around. He has been asleep for a long, long time and he may have forgotten some things. I'll wait a while and just find out where he spends most of his time. Then I'll just stand and wait for him to appear. He is a year older, but that doesn't mean that he is so much wiser, as some people seem to think. Old age makes some people forgetful, and perhaps it will be so with Grandfather Frog. I must confess that he has been too smart for me in the past, but I'll get him yet. It is good to hear his voice again and so know that he is alive. The thought of catching him gives me something to look forward to. If a lot of silly young Frogs about here had half the smartness that Grandfather Frog has, I would have to work harder for a living than I do now. It is a good thing for me that they haven't. Ha!"

His long neck darted forward and down and a moment later a careless Green Frog disappeared down that long throat. Longlegs once more drew his head back between his shoulders and resumed his watchful waiting.

Jerry Muskrat was another who heard Grandfather Frog's deep voice and chuckled when he heard it. "That is what I have been missing!" he exclaimed. "Now everything is as it should be around the Smiling Pool!"

The next story: "The Smiling Pool Philosopher."

Fraley V. F. W. Holds Memorial Services; Delegates Selected

The annual memorial service of Charles A. Fraley post No. 1450, Veterans of Foreign Wars was held Wednesday night at Odd Fellows hall. The post officers were assisted by the officers and color bearers of the ladies auxiliary. Rev. W. J. N. Robertson, chaplain, was in charge. Mrs. Lelia Caywood, president, was in charge of the auxiliary group.

Preceding the memorial, which was a joint meeting, both groups initiated candidates, and the post elected delegates to the national convention at Louisville, Ky., in September. They are Harold Caywood, F. L. Fassett and F. C. Scarborough. Nathan Grossman is a delegate at large. The alternates are Albert Schwarz, O. L. Skoles and Ross Brown.

J. H. Brenner of Norfolk, commander of the third district, was present and told of the advance the V. F. W. has made during the last six months in the northeast part of the state. Four new posts have been started, he said, and two more will be completed by July 1, the opening day of the department convention at Nebraska City.

MISS NORVAL BRIDE OF JOHN EBERSPACHER.

The marriage of Miss Wilmot Norval, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Norval of Seward, to John Eberspacher, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Eberspacher, also of Seward, was solemnized Thursday afternoon at the home of the bride's parents. The marriage service was read by Rev. C. H. Prouty in the presence of a group of twenty relatives.

Mrs. H. H. Ulrich of Ainsworth, sister of the bride, was the matron of honor, and Harold Eberspacher served his brother as best man. Little Lois Ulrich was the flower girl.

Immediately following the service an informal reception was held. The serving table in the dining room was covered with a Madeira cloth, and was centered with a low crystal bowl of roses. Miss Florence Eberspacher presided at the refreshment table, and was assisted by Miss Luella Eberspacher.

The bride is a former student at Nebraska Wesleyan university where she is a member of Orophilian sorority, and is a graduate of the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Alpha Xi Delta and Sigma Alpha Iota.

ATTRACTIVE HOME WEDDING RUTH SCOTT, RALPH MURPHY.

An attractively simple home wedding service was read Wednesday evening by Dr. Paul C. Johnston for Miss Ruth Scott, daughter of Mrs. Nettie G. Scott of Lincoln and Ralph Murphy of Whitehall, Mont. Talisman roses flanked on either side by lighted ivory tapers formed the setting for the service which was read before the fireplace at the Scott home.

The bride, who was unattended, wore a tea rose crepe gown modeled on straight lines. At the waist a green silk girdle formed an interesting contrast. A shoulder bouquet of talisman roses and sweet peas completed the ensemble.

Preceding the service, Mrs. Joe Johnson, sister of the bride sang "I Love You Truly," accompanied by Miss Hazel Scott, who played the Mendelssohn wedding march for a processional.

At the reception immediately following, Gene Scott invited guests to the dining room where Mrs. Ray Churchill of Ashland presided at the serving table. White roses and white tapers formed the only decorative touch for the table. She was assisted by Miss Ila Stootsberry. Miss Dorothy Gordon had charge of the guest book.

After September 1, Mr. and Mrs. Murphy will reside in Lincoln.

GIBB- JACKSON NUPTIALS SOLEMNIZED AT SHICKLEY.

The marriage of Miss Eva Margaret Gibb and Claude Jackson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Jackson of Lincoln was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents, Rev. and Mrs. Richard Gibb of Shickley, at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning, with the Rev. Mr. Gibb officiating. Miss Lillian Gibb and Robert Gibb attended the young couple. A wedding breakfast followed the service.

Mrs. Jackson is a graduate of Nebraska Wesleyan, where she is a member of Zeta Phi sorority and of Phi Kappa Phi, honorary scholastic fraternity. Since her graduation, she has been teaching in the Scottsbluff junior high school. Mr. Jackson has been associated with the Scottsbluff National bank since attending the University of Nebraska.

Following a trip to Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. Jackson will be at home in Scottsbluff.

The guests from Lincoln who attended the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Ross Jackson and Chancellor and Mrs E. Guy Cutshall.

MISS ALICE ARMSTRONG WED TO GEORGE KOEHLER.

A home ceremony at high noon was arranged today for the marriage of Miss Alice Evelyn Armstrong, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Armstrong, and George Lynn Koehler of Geneva. With only the immediate families present for the service at the home, 1902 South Thirtieth street, the Rev. Merchant S. Bush, pastor of the Second Presbyterian church, officiated before an altar of greenery, on either side of which were tall white baskets of garden flowers in tones of pink, with the illumination of white tapers in brass candelabra shining from above.

The bride had as her only attendant, Mrs. Earl Simmons, who was frocked in pink point d'esprit and carried an arm bouquet of pink roses. The bodice of her floor length frock was finished with a small round collar and a row of crystal buttons marked the tucked front. The sleeves were brief puffs and a girdle of the material, caught with a crystal buckle, completed the gown.

Mrs Koehler wore a lovely gown of white point d'esprit, on the princess lines to the knees, where a wide ripple from the front graduated to a point at the back of the bodice. The sleeves were simulated by cape ruffles and the neckline was rounded. The slim line of the fashioning was emphasized by the sash of angel skin satin, ending in a large bow with long streamers. Mrs. Koehler carried Sweetheart roses and babys' breath.

The ceremony was followed by a wedding luncheon. A low mound of pink roses and baby breath centered the long table and on either side the silver sticks held pink tapers.

When Mr. and Mrs. Koehler return from their wedding trip to New Orleans, they will go to Geneva to reside. She has chosen a yellow and brown ensemble for traveling.

Guests from out of the city were Mrs. Barthold Koehler, mother of the bridgroom, and Mrs. Charles Pickard, jr., of Geneva, and Mrs. E. W. Lyman of Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Koehler is a graduate of the university, and a member of Alpha Delta Theta sorority. Mr. Koehler formerly attended Doane college.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas blows up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, especially when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Insist on genuine Carter's at your druggist. © 1931 C. M. Co.

MISS VENONA JENSEN IS BRIDE OF VIRGIL SLYE.

Miss Venona Marie Jensen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Jensen of Bennet, became the bride of Virgil LeRoy Slye, son of Mrs. Mary Slye of Palmyra, Saturday evening, June 2, at Trinity Lutheran church near Bennet. Eighty guests were present for the reading of the service by the Rev. R. Stoehr before a background of roses and ferns, with a white runner leading to the altar.

When the guests had been seated, Miss Drusella Jensen, sister of the bride, sang "Thine Forever," and Charles Kemper, her cousin, "I Love You Truly." Mrs Albert Francke played the Lohengrin bridal music and the recessional march.

Miss Gertrude Jensen, another sister of the bride, was her maid of honor, and wore a floor length gown of green taffeta. Her flowers were a corsage of roses. The bridesmaids, Misses Bernice Nolte, Miriam Kemper, and Antoinette Nolte, were frocked in blue taffeta, peach organdy, and pink taffeta, respectively, all on the princess lines to the floor. They wore rose corsages.

The bride's gown was fashioned of white satin on the long lines, with the bodice yoke of lace, and pearls, the gift of the groom, formed her only ornament. Her long tulle veil was caught with orange blossoms. Mrs. Slye carried an arm bouquet of Ophelia and Johanna Hill roses, tied with a huge tulle bow.

A reception for the wedding guests followed at the home of the bride's parents. Miss Anna Anderson, Mrs Glen Beavers, Mrs. Earl Kemper, and Mrs. Dell Sommerville, assisted by Miss Violet Edgars, presided in the dining room. Miss Fern Hendricks was in charge of the gift room and the guest book The bridal table was centered with a wedding cake.

Mr. and Mrs. Slye will be at home in Palmyra.

WHAT A TIRE! WHAT A TIRE!

See it here! Goodyear test drivers burned out brakes—wracked cars—pounded the roads night and day—and it kept its grip twice as long as other tires!

IF YOU think the non-skid tread on your present tires wore out too soon—you're right!

Ordinary treads can't stand the strain of modern driving.

But come in today and see a tire that will!

The new "G-3" All-Weather! It has a wider tread—flatter tread—more rubber in the tread—more non-skid blocks in the center of the tread—and gives 43% longer non-skid mileage than the best previous Goodyear All-Weather.

No matter what car you drive—no matter how you drive—this tire will give you more miles of safety—AT NO EXTRA COST!

WARNING!

Watch the rest of the industry try to copy this amazing tire. Watch them try to duplicate Goodyear's claims. But, remember, you have to have "non-skid" before you can have "non-skid mileage." And to have "non-skid," you have to have GRIP where you see it here—GRIP in the center of the tread—the place where it counts, because it's the spot where the tire contacts the road. Look at the grip on this Goodyear Tire and ask yourself why buy any tire that lacks this safety? And keep in mind that you cannot successfully build this type of non-skid tire without the extra-durability of Supertwist cords.

Rodney Bliss Setting Early Pace at Merion

Nebraska Boy Has Sad Start, but Plays Inside Nine In Sparkling 33

BY ALAN GOULD.

MERION CRICKET CLUB, Philadelphia, June 7—(AP)—While the professional brigade struggled today to overcome a poor start over the breezy Merion course, Rodney Bliss, Jr., of Omaha, home-town amateur rival of the defending champion, Johnny Goodman, shot a sensational 33 for the last nine and shared the pace-setting honors today at the outset of the first round of the U. S. open golf championship.

Bliss Around In 74.

Bliss and Jimmy Thomson, Los Angeles professional, led the early finishers for 18 holes with 74 each, four over par, while a majority of the scores ballooned.

On their heels were Charley Yates of Atlanta, another amateur, and Joe Kirkwood, the professional trick-shot, each with a 75.

Goodman, followed by a gallery of 500 spectators and playing steadily, reached the turn in 38, only two over par, as he began the defense of his title.

Goodman, after an exchange of formalities with officials and posing for photographers with his playing companion, Johnny Kinder of Asbury Park, N. J., carded a par-four easily on the first hole. He barely missed a sidehill 18-foot putt for a birdie.

Little Breaks His Driver.

Little broke the head of his driver on the long second hole, but the shot was all right and he got his par five. A three at the 195-yard third hole kept the amateur ace even with par.

Macdonald Smith reached the turn in 41 and Ed Dudley was only one stroke better, as even the top-notchers found the conditions extremely difficult for low scoring.

Burly Lawson Little, Jr., the slugging San Franciscan who is just back from triumph in the British amateur championship, gave the galleryites a thrill by pounding his tee shot 310 yards on the first hole. He had an easy pitch left to the green and his try for a birdie from 20 feet rimmed the cup. A gallery of 250 fans followed the boy bombardier, who is acknowledged by the pros to be one of the most terrific hitters now in competition.

Little's partner was T. Philip Perkins, now a Cleveland pro but a former holder of the British amateur crown and once a finalist in the U. S. amateur tournament. Perkins was trapped on the first hole and lucky to card a five.

Lawson Takes an Eight.

The loss of his favorite driver proved costly to Little, for his next wood shot, off the tee on the 595-yard fourth hole, sailed into thick rough and the westerner wound up with an eight. He half-topped his recovery shot, the ball rolling into a trap only 10 yards away. Twice more in the rough before he reached the edge of the green, Little then over-ran the cup and missed a five-foot putt.

Little finished the outgoing nine with a brace of easy pars and, despite his one weird hole, was only 40, with a chance to pound himself back into the running.

Bliss Peels Off Birdies.

Bliss, after taking two shots to get out of a bunker and then three-putting the eighth green for a seven, came back in a sensational sub-par 33. The young Nebraskan payed a niblick shot within six feet of the eleventh pin and sank the putt for a birdie three. He lost a shot on the short thirteenth, requiring three to get down from the grass at the edge of the green, but came back with another birdie on the fifteenth, where his midiron approach was only 10 feet from the cup and he got the putt down. Bliss' card:

Out . . . . 5 5 3 5 4 5 4 7 3—41
In . . . . 4 3 4 4 4 3 4 3 4—33—74

Goodman got his par five easily on the second, where two long wood shots left him an easy chip to the green but he hooked his tee shot into a trap on the 195-yard third, blasted well out and took two putts from 10 feet for a four.

Bakers Take Lead In City Ball Loop

HARDY VS. WOODS.

Hardy Furniture and Woods Furniture teams of the City amateur baseball league meet tonight at Muny at 6:15 in a loop game. Meyers is slated to go for the Hardymen, and Grage is the likely choice for Woods.

Wendelin Bakers, with a three-run splurge in the sixth, managed to go ahead of the City of Lincoln at Muny Wednesday evening in a City loop game, 5-3. Silverio's single to right got away from Kaiser for a home run to give City a lead in the fifth, but W. Bork's triple, Yelkin's double and Amen's single, plus two stolen bases by the latter and a wild pitch by Stahl, netted three tallies.

Davy Bork, normally a catcher, took his turn on the mound and allowed only four hits, walking one and whiffing nine. Of the nine hits made in the game, three were doubles, four triples and one a homer, with only one single chalked up. Score:

SENTIMENT in eastern fight circles seems to be preponderantly in favor of Primo Carnera, the vast Venetian, in the approaching fistic soiree in the Garden's Long Island arena.

It isn't that the east actually wishes that the Italian giant may be the winner—it is the east's calm judgment that Max Baer, the ring game's greatest lover, will be unable in the brief time he has devoted to training purposes to attain the needed physical condition to hold his own with the present champion of the heavies.

In proof of this sentiment, New York's shrewdest bookmaker, Jack Doyle, has fixed the odds at five to three on Da Preem, meaning that if one backs Carnera in Mr. Doyle's book, one must lay down five smackers and expect no more than three in return.

Inasmuch as Bookmaker Doyle has nominated Primo as the favorite, it means that he dispatched smart scouts to Baer's New Jersey camp, gleaning information which prompted the Doyle odds of five-three, with Carnera as the favorite.

BUT betting odds never did—and never will—serve as a substitute for the old sleep producer, meaning a swift sock on the chin, and if Max can get home with his right a few times to the big fellow's button, the betting odds would be quite as valueless as ever.

The history book discloses that the champion, almost without exception, has been the favorite in every title bout since fighting for lucre came into being as a sport.

The odds, for instance, were as much as 10 to 1 against Jim Corbett, but the pompadoured flash from San Francisco made a monkey of the bookies and had the Boston strongboy licked in every round.

Ever since that memorable battle in New Orleans 42 years ago, come September, every successful challenger for the title has been the short man in the betting rings. Wherefore it will require more than the mere announcement that Carnera is the bookies' favorite to convince me that Baer has no chance to grab the Venetian giant's crown.

ADMITTING that Carnera likely will climb through the ropes in better physical trim than his challenger, that he has trained longer and more zealously than Maxie, the statement is incontrovertible that the Livermore larruper has just had a big break in his favor, the same taking form in the appearance of Jack Dempsey, a great champion in his day, at the Baer camp.

With Dempsey present during the two final weeks of Maxie's training, to hand out the advice that only a Dempsey could give, it strikes me as being inevitable that Baer's chances are entitled thereby to be rated as 50 per cent improved—all this despite the fact that the Baer entourage has sought a week's postponement.

That something tangible and definite along the line of betterment has resulted from Dempsey's presence in Baer's camp may be judged from the fact that Maxie of late has been indulging in few of his usual Good-time Charlie stunts.

With Dempsey looking on, wielding the lash of sharp criticism, Maxie, it seems, has been digging in with surprising zeal—and that well might augur ill for the smart money fellows who have been going down on the line with Carnera coin.

MORE important, however, than Dempsey's presence at Maxie's training quarters is the fact that the old mauler is scheduled to be in Baer's corner when the gong clangs an even week from tonight or possibly a week later.

One little point should not escape notice, to-wit: Baer's plan of battle against his mastodontic foe—whether he will stand off and box Da Preem or wade in from the first bell, swinging furiously for Carnera's chin—has not been revealed.

My own guess it will continue to be unrevealed; that Dempsey, not Max nor his manager, will map out the plan of action and Baer will enter the ring bent on doing as Dempsey has advised.

Another guess is that when Max and Primo have at it with thudding fists, it will be pretty much the same sort of slambang battle that was waged when Dempsey flung science to the four winds and slugged it out with Luis Firpo 11 years ago. Dempsey was Firpo's physical inferior that night, but the fury of his attack so rattled the man from South America that Firpo's finis was written in two tornadic rounds.

So I here reveal my hunch, to-wit: Baer, on Dempsey's advice, will begin shooting his heaviest guns the moment the gong has clanged and keep firing his biggest Berthas until he has either been deposited on his shoulder blades, taking a place in fistic history as a disappointed challenger, or has made himself the new champion by virtue of a knockout quite as sensational as any ever entered in the book.

THE Baer-Carnera subject brings to mind the fact that numerous requests have reached The Star's sports department seeking information as to whether the Garden management will permit ringside radio broadcasts the night of June 14 or continue the ban plastered on the "mikers" last summer at the time of the Carnera-Sharkey brawl.

The answer is that the folks in charge of Garden fight affairs have not indulged in their official say in the matter of a June 14 broadcast. Their silence prompts the suspicion that the decision hinges largely on the dimensions of the advance sale.

If the customers have been buying briskly, indicating a sell-out of the Long Island bowl, the word will go forth that the "mikers" will be permitted to put the battle details on the air. If the sale suggests a doubt, the Garden management will keep the broadcast ban screwed on tight. In event the latter is the final verdict, I suspect the Lincoln Newspapers will arrange to supply the Lincoln public with the blow-by-blow returns via public address system facilities.

LINKS AHEAD IN DRAWN OUT BOUT

Capital City Clan Trims Canaries In Thirteen Inning Battle.

SERIES FINALE TONIGHT.

Lincoln's pacemaking Links will be trying for a clean sweep of the Sioux Falls series tonight when the teams tangle in the third game of the Canary invasion of the Capital City stronghold. Nelson Potter, ace of the Lincoln pitching staff, will toss the ball game. The game will start at the usual time, 8:30.

Lincoln's entry in the Nebraska league won the second straight game from Sioux Falls at Landis Field Wednesday evening, 4-3, but it took some 13 innings to turn the trick. It was Jim Callahan's rollicking double in the thirteenth round which sent Eph Lobaugh romping home with the winning tally and broke up the ball game.

Dunkle and Tarantola hooked up in a pitchers' duel for eight frames, when Dunkle was retired for a pinch-hitter. In the ninth, the Links tied it up at 3-3 with two away when Langkop singled and came in on Morehouse's double to centerfield.

Lefty Seats was on the mound for Lincoln the remainder of the journey and allowed only two singles in the five final innings. The winning run came across when Lobaugh singled to left with one away and stole second. Zimmerman rolled out to Staples, but Callahan came through with his second double of the evening and the ball game was over.

Horio's Diving Catch.

The most spectacular fielding play of the year at Landis Field was on display in the ninth. Callahan, Lincoln's lead-off man that inning, slapped a well-hit ball into the strong wind from the south which threatened to carry the ball over the head of Horio, Japanese left fielder. When just a few yards from the fence, Horio made a diving catch and came up with the ball to rob Cal of a cinch double and possibly a triple. The stands applauded the catch with gusto although it was that catch which kept the ball game going into extra innings.

Al Phillips, Lincoln third-sacker, after hitting safely in a dozen consecutive games, missed fire Wednesday evening to break his streak. Phillips was up five times, hoisting outfield flies twice and grounding out three times.

Sioux Falls outhit the Links by a healthy margin, 14-9. Dunkle, in his stay of eight frames on the mound, allowed a dozen blows but kept them well scattered.

Another highlight of the game was pulled by Zimmerman in the eighth. Sioux Falls, leading, 3-2, had runners spotted on first and second with two away. Horio singled to center with his third hit of the day, and Zimmerman, with a perfect throw, nipped Pederson at the plate 10 feet for the third out. Score:

BABE VICTIM OF WOUNDED PRIDE

Bambino's Feelings Hurt By Rumors Team Pals Want Him Benched.

BY BILL KING.

BOSTON, June 7—(AP)—These reports that his Yankee teammates consider him a drag anchor have so upset the usually phlegmatic Babe Ruth that he has benched himself until his bruised feelings heal.

The Babe, hitting over .300 and fielding in his customary flawless fashion, despite an ailing ankle, is his own boss, says Manager Joe McCarthy.

"Me bench Ruth?" demanded McCarthy. 'Why, I did no such thing. You may say for me that he is a regular member of my club. He plays when he feels like it and rests when he wants to."

Although several of his Yankee friends have assured him that the desire to have him out of the line-up is far from general, Ruth is deeply hurt that anyone would wish to see him benched.

Babe Tells His Story.

'I don't think that is the way to treat a fellow who has given as much to baseball as I have," complained the Babe. "I have been having some trouble with my ankle, but I don't think I am washed up yet. This is going to be my last season as a player, but if I thought I was hindering the Yankees by playing, I could not throw off the uniform fast enough."

When the Babe decided to see the doubleheader with the Red Sox from the bench yesterday, McCarthy sent 24-year-old Myril Hoag to left field and this Newark-trained product amazed the 12,000 cash customers, most of whom paid to see Ruth perform, by hitting safely the first seven of his 11 times at bat.

Baer Party Bobs Up With Request Fight Go Over for One Week

BY EDWARD J. NEIL.

NEW YORK, June 7—(AP)—This heavyweight title duel of Max Baer and Primo Carnera that once could summons up thrilling visions of high drama at the mere mention of their names has taken on a kind of comic opera aspect—and pretty low comedy at that, if you ask the huge Italian champion. The date has been set for months—one week from tonight, 15 rounds in Madison Square Garden's bowl on Long Island. The fighters have been training for two months. And now Baer, the challenger, to the absolute consternation of the Garden and the champion, asks for a week's postponement so that he may get in better condition.

Garden Folks Object.

Baer and his manager, Ancil Hoffman, and his advisor, Jack Dempsey, will appear at the New York state athletic commission office Friday to plead for the delay, with Carnera and his handlers, the Garden and possibly a few legal lights, objecting just as strenuously and just a little panicky.

"Either we fight June 14 or we do not fight at all," stormed Carnera in his training camp. The monster man is in such perfect condition right now, browned a light chocolate and weighing only 258 pounds, that any delay now would wreck his training.

Johnston Shouts "Larceny."

"It's a larcenous attempt on the part of the Baer people to keep Carnera working another week and bring him into the ring stale so they'll win the championship," screamed Jimmy Johnston, boxing manager at the Garden. "They won't get away with it. We'll fight 'em tooth and nail. Baer's been down there in Asbury Park six weeks and he's in good shape. It's a trick."

"We can't do that,' said Col. John R. Kilpatrick, a trifle aghast. "All the people have arranged so that they could be there that night."

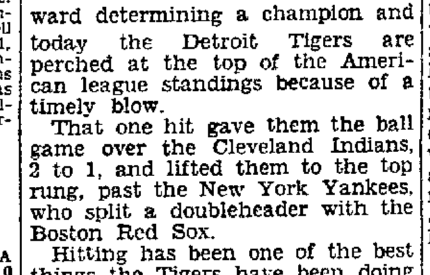

But placidly down in Asbury Park spoke William Harrison Dempsey, who has a 7½ per cent interest in Baer and learned about ballyhoo from the master, Tex Rickard:

Mr. Dempsey Says It.

"Baer has seven days left to get in shape and that's not enough. The public is entitled to plenty of action for their money and they should see both men at their best. Carnera is ready. Baer isn't."

There have been rumors for several days that some one would ask a postponement because of fear that the gate receipts would be affected adversely by such close proximity to the spectacular Barney Ross, Jimmy McLarnin battle only a little more than a week ago. The Garden vehemently denied any intent to seek delay. A couple of days ago, however, Bill Brown, one-third of the New York state athletic commission, said that if his personal examination tomorrow did not reveal Baer in top shape, he'd order a postponement. The other two members of the commission, John J. Phelan and D. Walker Wear, said he'd do no such thing.

If the request for postponement is a ballyhoo stunt to lift a gate present estimates put at $350,000, it marks the queerest twist in the history of modern heavyweight fights. Never before has a warrior sought to attract the patronage of the faithful by publicly admitting his unfitness for battle.

DETROIT ON TOP IN FLAG PURSUIT

Tigers Go Ahead; Thrash Cleveland Club On One Safe Hit.

BY GENE LAWRENCE.

NEW YORK, June 7—(INS)—One well placed hit, whether it be with fist, golf club or baseball bat, sometimes goes a long ways toward determining a champion and today the Detroit Tigers are perched at the top of the American league standings because of a timely blow.

That one hit gave them the ball game over the Cleveland Indians, 2 to 1, and lifted them to the top rung, past the New York Yankees, who split a doubleheader with the Boston Red Sox.

Hitting has been one of the best things the Tigers have been doing recently, as for example take the case of Outfielder "Goose" Goslin, who hit safely in 30 consecutive games. He was stopped by Bob Weiland yesterday, but on one of his free walks he scored when Gehringer singled.

After pounding "Lefty" Grove from the hill in four innings, the Yankees went on to win the first game from Boston, 15 to 3, gathering 25 hits.

Plenty Hits In Hoag's Bat.

Myril Hoag, Yankees outfielder, made six hits in six trips to the plate in the first game. The record is seven straight, held by Wilbert Robinson, former Dodgers manager, when he played with the old Baltimore Orioles.

However, in the final, which the Yankees lost, 7 to 4, Hoag continued his streak to seven, only to fail in his eighth try.

The New Yorkers dropped the nightcap, after they apparently had it sewed up. The Red Sox put on an eighth-inning rally that netted four runs and walked off with the game.

Rogers Hornsby's St. Louis Browns tightened their hold on fourth place by nosing out the Chicago White Sox, 3 to 2. "Bump" Hadley outpitched Ted Lyons to win this one, allowing eight hits, one more than his rival.

Rain cancelled the Philadelphia Athletics' game with the Senators at Washington after three innings had been played.

No. 8 for Hubbell.

Carl Hubbell hung up his eighth victory of the season as he pitched the New York Giants to an easy 6-2 victory over the Boston Braves and into the leadership of the National league.

Routing Huck Betts with a five-run attack in the first, the New Yorkers gave Hubbell something to work with and, as later events proved, he needed the margin near the end, for he showed signs of tiring. Gyselman's triple scored Boston's two runs in the eighth.

The Pittsburgh Pirates swept through a double victory over the lowly Cincinnati Reds, winning the first, 3 to 1, and the nightcap, 5 to 1.

The Brooklyn Dodgers used four pitchers, Beck, Carroll, Lucas and Munns, but they couldn't stop the Philadelphia Phillies and as a result lost, 12 to 4.

The St. Louis Cards tumbled to second place in the league standings as a result of a 12 to 6 defeat handed them by the Chicago Cubs. Deadlocking at the end of the ninth, the two teams continued on to the twelfth, when a weird batting outburst netted the Cubs six runs.

Illinois Man Named Grid Coach at Doane

CHICAGO, June 7—(AP)— Allie Morrison, former Olympic wrestling champion at Illinois and one-time assistant gridiron coach at Penn State, has been named head football coach of Doane college, Crete, Neb. Morrison began his football career at Marshalltown, Ia., where he was a star on the high school team. He was the only American wrestler to win in the 1928 Olympic games, capturing the 135-pound title at Amsterdam.

Woman Recovering From Effects of Gas

Returning from a twilight baseball game, Russell Ettleman found his wife Ethel, 18, in a semi-conscious condition in the gas filled kitchen of their home, 425 South Fourteenth street. She was taken ot St. Elizabeth's hospital. Dr. B. A. Finkle said she apparently suffered no serious effects from the gas. The woman was expected to be released from the hospital Thursday. Police who investigated were told that Mrs. Ettleman had been distracted by the heat.

Nebraska's Corn Crop Will More Than Care For Livestock Needs

If utilized completely, Nebraska's 1934 corn crop will provide encugh fodder to meet the state's requrements for next winter's livestock feed several times over, A. E. Anderson, state and federal agricultural statistician, predicted today. Anderson's prediction was based on the possibility of an average yield and took into account the government's acreage reduction program.

Anderson said that in 1930, a good year, Nebraska produced enough fodder to not only feed this state's livestock but also to meet the needs for winter feed of most of the livestock in the cornbelt. It just wasn't utilized, he said.

Haynes On Tour To Explain Relief Plan To County Officials

Federal Relief Agent Rowland Haynes and Jack Woods of his auditing division are nolding a series of three regional conferences with members of county boards in northern and western Nebraska, to explain the uniform contract which all counties are being asked to sign pledging specific tax levies and certain other revenues for relief purposes.

They met Wednesday at O'Neill with officials of 14 counties. On Thursday they will be at Alliance to confer with representatives of 11 counties. Friday a session will be held at North Platte, attended by commissionerst and supervisors of 13 counties.

Awake for Hours with Itching, Burning Pimples. Cuticura Healed.

"For over two years I suffered with itching, burning pimples that broke out over my face and arms. They were very large, red and hard and came to a head. They itched and burned so much that I could not refrain from scratching, and the pimples turned into white scales. At night I would lie awake for hours.

"I saw an advertisement for Cuticura Soap and Ointment and sent for a free sample. When the samples gave out the pimples were disappearing so I bought more and two weeks later I was healed." (Signed) Miss Edith Langlitz, 346 Dove St., Oshkosh, Wis., Sept. 2, 1933.

Stock Market Shows Little Enthusiasm For Higher Price Levels Generally In Listless Session

Exchange Closing Tone Is Irregular

Old-Line Leaders Easier; Some Strength In Metals Issues.

NEW YORK, June 7—(AP)—

While metal issues developed some strength in today's listless stock market, and a few of the oils resumed their advance in the latter part of the session, there was little enthusiasm shown for higher price levels generally. Most of the old-line leaders were easier. The close was irregular. Transfers approximated 450,000 shares.

In view of negotiations for the prevention of a major strike in the steel industry, speculative elements were inclined to subside. There was virtually no public participation, floor traders accounting for the greater part of the business done.

Rains in the drouth-stricken grain districts brought a reaction of a cent or more a bushel in wheat. Corn acted contrarily and moved higher although the rest of the cereals sagged. Cotton improved, but rubber and silver were featureless. Bonds were mixed. The dollar improved in terms of foreign gold currencies.

Shares of Homestake Mining got up 14 points and U. S. Smelting gained about 3. Other metals, up fractionally to a point or more, included McIntyre, Doma, American Smelting, Cerro de Pasco, Howe Sound and Noranda. Standard Oil of California moved up more than a point and Standard Oil of New Jersey and Seaboard were steady to firm. A better tone was shown by Schenley, American Commercial Alcohol, Sears Roebuck, Case, Woolworth and Monsanto Chemical. Union Pacific lost 2 and Santa Fe, Louisville & Nashville, New York Central and Baltimore & Ohio were lower. U. S. Steel, Bethlehem Steel and National Steel were off nearly a point each. General Motors, American Telephone, Du Pont, Consolidated Gas and numerous others were unchanged to moderately in arrears.

Leading steel company officials were in conference here trying to arrive at some decision regarding the demands of union chieftains. At Washington the NRA administrators were meeting with heads of the steel labor delegations in an effort to halt the walkout threatened for June 16.

While the steel situation looked bad to most observers, there were some who expressed the opinion that a strike would still be prevented, either by governmental intervention or by a compromise worked out between the employers and workers. It was pointed out that there are nine more days in which a settlement can be arranged.

Commentators attributed the recent market stagnancy largely to the belief that uprofessional leadership is absent because of the new exchange control law while financial leaders, who might otherwise be active, are awaiting definite removal of strike threats in various industries. The nature of labor legislation which may be passed by congress was also viewed as a major uncertainty.

Persistent of inflationary psychology was seen in the flurry of the gold mining group as well as some of the silver issues. This was said to have been based on the recurrence of rumors that the administration probably would boost the price of the yellow metal after congress adjourns and that something more than anticipated would be done for silver.

Estimates of freight car loadings for the week ended June 2 to be officially published tomorrow, are said to indicate a more than seasonal decline. Part of the expected decrease, however, was due to the Memorial day holiday.

own are living."

Although the steel industry's labor troubles were causing the principal concern in the financial district, the figures of the American Iron & Steel Institute on May production were pleasing to trade analysts.

The daily average output of all steel companies in the past month was calculated at 125,807 gross tons as against 117,425 tons in April and 74,148 a year ago. The daily average for the year thus far was 102,600 tons compared with 49,548 in the same 1933 period.

Bankers expressed no surprise at the announcement of further substantial gold gains by the Bank of France. The return flow of the metal to official French coffers has now been under way for some time. In the bank's statement as of June 1, an increase during the week of gold amounting to 812,000,000 francs was shown. Currency circulation, however, advanced to 81,567,000,000 from 79,992,000,000 in the previous week. The ratio stood at 78.98 per cent against 78.51 in the preceding period.

The dollar displayed rallying tendencies in opening foreign exchange dealings. Sterling, which was strong yesterday, eased ⅛ of a cent to $5.06⅞ and the French franc was off .01 of a cent at 6.60¾ cents.

Wheat Prices Take a Slide

Close Is Nervous, 1⅛-1⅞c Lower; Corn Gains ⅜-1c.

CHICAGO, Ill., June 7—(AP)—

Virtual breaking of the drouth in the Dakotas Minnesota and Montana brought about decidedly lower prices for wheat today.

Practically every station reporting to the United States weather bureau from the four states named sent word of rains. Drouth and high temperatures in southwestern states, however, continued, and caused reports of premature ripening of wheat.

Wheat closed nervous, 1⅛ to 1⅞ cents under yesterday's finish, July 97⅜@½c, September 98⅜@⅝c. Corn ⅜ to 1 cent advance, July 55¾c, September 57⅞@¾c. Oats ⅝ to ⅞ cents down, and provisions unchanged to 5 cents up.

Substantial rains and indications of more led to sharp new downturns of grain prices early today. A steadying factor on declines, however, was likelihood that the United States government crop report tomorrow would confirm reports of great crop damage. Opening 1¼ to 2¾ cents lower, July 96½@97½c, wheat afterward held near the initial limits. Corn opened ⅝ to 1⅜ cents off, and subsequently rallied somewhat.

Dominating the wheat market much of the day were official reports indicating material relief to large parts of drouth stricken territory. The reports noted in particular that rains received would greatly improve crop conditions in sections of the spring wheat belt where drouth had been most severe. On the other hand, forecasts were in general for only showers tonight and tomorrow.

Rallies of about 1½ cent from early bottom figures for wheat accompanied forecasts that immediate fresh moisture would as a rule be confined to showers. Buying at this stage, though, was not of an aggressive character, and the price recoveries lacked force. Something of a counterbalance to the rallying trend was word from Liverpool that Argentine shipments of wheat were larger than expected, and had now exceeded the quota which Argentina had agreed to. Corn and oats fluctuated mainly in line with wheat.

Provisions were easy, responsive to grain weakness despite hog market upturns.

Wheat futures purchases yesterday totaled 50,853,000 bushels, corn 13,516,000. Open interest in wheat was 98,102,000 bushels, and in corn 61,704,000.

About mid-session, wheat was 1¼ to 1⅝ cents lower compared with yesterday's finish, and corn was unchanged to ½ cent down.

Corn receipts in Chicago today were 133 cars, a week ago 110, and a year ago 310.

NEW YORK, June 7—(AP)—Directors of Loew's, Inc., declared the regular quarterly dividend of 25 cents on the common stock payable June 30 to stock of record June 18.

Directors of the U. S. Tobacco Co., declared a dividend of $1.25 a share on the common stock, placing it on an annual basis of $5 against $4.40 previously paid. The dividend is payable July 2 to stock of record June 18.

NEW YORK, June 7—(AP)—The Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad today ordered a dividend of $2 per common share, payable June 25 to stock on record June 16. The last semi-annual payment was $2, which was disbursed December 26, 1933. The $2 disbursement, amounting in the aggregate to about $3,497,000, will go almost wholly to the Northern Pacific and Great Northern railroads, which jointly hold about 98 per cent of the Burlington stock.

Chicago Produce.

CHICAGO, Ill., June 7—(AP)—

Butter was steady in tone today. Eggs were steady; chickens were firm and hens steady.

Recent reports of rains and drouth relief over lareg areas have tempered sentiment in the butter market. There was no material improvement in the open wholesale market despite the higher spot levels established yesterday. Distributors appeared to be apprehensive. Investment buying is at a minimum.

The statistical position of butter remains satisfactory. Many dealers compare visible stocks with last year and this comparison naturally disclosed bullish totals. Others, however, are inclined to overlook the abnormal storings of 1933 and believe the five-year average prior to last year might prove a better basis for comparison. At any rate there is a shortage and lighter stocks are heard in all quarters.

The statistical situation in eggs is also satisfactory. There have been important decreases in visible stocks during the past few days. Quality of eggs has deteriorated.

NEW YORK CURB REVIEW.

NEW YORK, June 7—(AP)—

Curb prices were irregular today. Metal stock, which had a brisk run up in the previous session extended their advances small fractions to around a point and some of the specialties were higher. Other sections of the list, however, weakened under moderate selling orders which accumulater overnight and were augmented by additional offerings as the session progressed.

Bunker Hill and Sullivan gained a point, Lake Shore Mines was up nearly that much and Wright Hargreaves improved a small fraction. Ford Motor of Canada advanced around a point and a half, Singer Mfg. was up 3 and Midvale gained a point. Electric Bond & Share, Niagara Hudson Power, Pioneer Gold and Pittsburgh Plate Glass gained small fractions.

American Cyanamid "B," American Gas, Creole Petroleum, Humble Oil, International Petroleum, Standard Oil of Indiana, and Cities Service yielded slightly and some of the less active industrials and specialties lost more.

Strength of the metal stocks coincided with higher prices for this group the first two hours was was concentrated in these issues.

NEW YORK BOND REVIEW.

NEW YORK, June 7—(AP)—

A decidedly slack trading interest made it difficult for the bond market to establish a definite trend during the first half of the session today. All though the corporate list the price movement showed the same indecision as that which marked stocks.

Some of yesterday's modest gains in secondary issues were wiped out because the light offerings encountered greatly restricted bidding. Prime issues, including U. S. governments, held up well in spite of dullness.

In some loans of Baltimore & Ohio, Milwaukee, Erie, New York Central, Southern Railway and American Light & Power prices yielded to the extent of half a point or so. Gains of like proportions featured Great Northern 4½s, North American 5s, National Dairy Products 5¼s and Pennsylvania general 4½s among others.

Treasury loans were up 1-32nd to 2-32nds of a point and Liberty fourth 4¼s improved 5-32nds. Trading volume was small all through the government list.

In the foreign division the lack of trading incentive was as pronounced as in the domestic issues and prices were virtually in most of the leading groups. German government 5½s were down a trifle. Poland 7s were off about a point. Italy 7s were steady.

Grain Notes

CHICAGO, June 7—(AP)—Market sentiment had a bearish tone after additional rainfall was forecast for the drouth region. Both wheat and corn prices were lower as a result, but the government's weekly summary on weather conditions indicated the small grains crop was damaged beyond recovery over a wide area. Reports from the agricultural regions said the drouth had not been definitely broken. Corn and other grains did not receive any support from a report that the government may spend $125,000,00 for livestock feed under its drouth relief program.

A suggestion that the weather situation might be displaced as a dominant market influence by a government relief bill proposal to set aside $150,000,000 for the purchase of feed and forage seed was made by traders in commenting on the relief program.

Soy bean prices have advanced sharply as the result of the increased demand created for them by the drouth. Farmers are using soy beans to replant grain fields. Prices yesterday were as much as 20 cents higher at $1.50 to $1.60 a bushel. Most of the demand for the seed has come from Minnesota, Wisconsin, Illinois and North and South Dakota. Soy beans sold for less than $1.00 a bushel a few weeks ago. Some quarters have hinted that the demand will create a shortage of the beans.

The European wheat crop, excluding Russia, was estimated by Broomhall at from 210,000,000 to 280,000,000 bushels less than last year, when the total yield was 1,704,000,00 bushels.

MORE NEBRASKA COUNTIES LISTED

Ten Additional are Placed In Emergency Drouth Area.

WASHINGTON, June 7—(AP)—The first optimistic rainfall note came today from the weather bureau, but the government continued full tilt nevertheless in its drouth relief efforts. The farm administration made one of its first acts today the addition of 25 counties in Minnesota, South Dakota and New Mexico to the "emergency" drouth area.

"Good general rains" ranging from ½ inch to 1 inch or more were reported by the weather bureau to have fallen during the past 24 hours in the Dakotas, northern Nebraska, western Minnesota, central Montana, and the northwestern part of Iowa.

All of the new emergency drouth counties had been previously named as "secondary" drouth areas. In addition 25 counties in Nebraska, Kansas, Iowa, Colorado and New Mexico were added to the secondary list.

Emergency counties in Nebraska named today are Cass, Chase, Douglas, Dundy, Johnson, Otoe, Pawnee, Perkins, Sarpy and Washington.

More Secondary Areas.

Twenty - nine more Nebraska counties, or a total of sixty-nine have been designated as secondary drouth areas by Washington officials. A. E. Anderson, state and federal agricultural statistician, announced Thursday.

Counties now designated as such are: Perkins, Lincoln, Custer, Valley, Greeley, Boone, Antelope, Knox and all counties south and east of them except Nemaha and Richardson, plus the following counties north of this line: Sioux Dawes, Box Butte, Sheridan, Keya Paha and Boyd.

Brown, Rock and Holt counties, especially those portions north of the sandhills, are also being considered for designation as secondary drouth areas, Anderson said.

The situation in Nemaha and Richardson counties is better than elsewhere because of good rains in the past few days and moisture received previously, Anderson said.

When the livestock feed shortage in secondary drouth areas becomes so serious that animals are starving or losing weight those areas can be classified for emergency drouth relief and eligible for purchasing by the government of stock.

Judge Day To Be Host Creighton Law Class

Creighton university's 1934 law graduates, who will come to Lincoln for admission to the bar, will be guests at a luncheon to be given by Judge L. B. Day of the Supreme court at the Cornhusker hotel Friday noon. Judge Day is giving the luncheon to celebrate the twentieth anniversary of his graduation from Creighton law college.

Besides the graduates and the other judges of the Supreme court, other guests will be Dean L. J. TePoel of the Creighton law college, J. J. Ledwith, president of the state bar association; Dr. Czar Johnson, president of the Lincoln Creighton Alumni club; Assistant Attorney General Paul Chaney; George Turner, clerk of the Supreme court.

OPEN BRICK BIDS.

The board of control Thursday opened bids on 100,000 bricks to be used in constructing a boys' cottage and girls' dormitory at the Beatrice feeble minded institute, but Mrs. Nellie G. Benson, chairman of the board, said the contract will not be let until samples submitted by the bidders are tested.

Western Brick & Supply Co., Lincoln, was low bidder at $17 per thousand on kiln run brick. Its alternate bids on two higher qualities were $21.75.

Lombrence Building & Supply Co., Omaha, bid $17.50 on kiln run and $21.75 on alternate qualities.

Buffalo Brick Co., Buffalo, Kas., bid $17 on kiln run and $19 on alternate quality.

GOVERNMENT TO TACKLE DROUTH ON TWO FRONTS

WASHINGTON, June 7—(AP)—Red blotches denoting blight covered a large part of the map behind President Roosevelt's desk today as the government struggled with the drouth in two ways:

1. More food, more money, more clothing were promised victims of the calamity.

2. Long range planning to soften such cruelties of nature was declared necessary.

The president feels the drouth is approaching the proportions of a major disaster. A survey by the agriculture department said it would "materially affect the national food supply," but did not mean a shortage.

Wallace Answers Critics.

Secretary Wallace, speaking at Bismarck, N. D., last night, answered critics who said nature had shown the futility of man-made control.

He said he could not see "how any one who has gone through this drouth area can say a kind word for nature's method of crop reduction." Man's methods, though imperfect, are "perfection itself by comparison with the occasional crudeness, the ruthlessness and the uncertainties of nature," he declared.

Calling for permanent, long range planning, he said production control would not be abandoned because of the drouth.

Such programs insure farmers some income from benefit payments in such periods as this, he said, and enable the government to guarantee sufficient food by storing grain on farms.

Effects of Drouth.

Extending over 30 states, the drouth was described as having these effects:

"Greatly reduced" wheat, feed grain, and hay crops.

"The most serious forage shortage" ever experienced.

Early crops in "bad" condition.

Death losses in livestock "mounting steadily."

Water supplies in irrigation sections cut in half.

Relief Program.

To combat these conditions the farm, farm credit, and relief administrations proceeded along these lines:

Boosting second wheat benefit payments to 9 cents per bushel, an increase of $3,500,000, and hurrying a total of $30,000,000 in benefit checks to farmers.

Speeding corn-hog benefit checks.

Reducing freight rates in the drouth area by 33 to 50 per cent.

More than 200 federal inspectors working on the cattle purchase program.

Enlargement of the work relief program.

Refinement of plans to purchase and store 15,000,000 bushels of spring wheat, 40,000,000 bushels of oats, and 10,000,000 bushels of barley for seed.

O STREET LIGHTS BEING FINISHED

The new ornamental lighting system and traffic signals will be ready for operation in time for the chamber of commerce and city council celebration on June 15, promoters of the event were assured Thursday. The contractors said the globes for the ornamental lights would all be in place by night.

The traffic signals are in place and the first tests of the lights were made about 6:30 o'clock Wednesday evening at Eleventh and O streets. They were turned on at Ninth and O streets for a short time Thursday morning.

Testing of the ornamental lights and the entire traffic light system will be made at the same time, it was said.

Articles Worth $230 Stolen From Lincoln Autos Since June 1

Thefts from Lincoln automobiles, exclusive of articles stripped from stolen cars, have amounted to at least $230 so far this month, according to police reports.

The most recent grand larceny theft from an automobile was reported Wednesday evening by Miss Ellen M. Philbrick of Omaha. Miss Philbrick told police that someone took a gladstone bag containing $100 worth of clothing from her car, which was parked Wednesday afternoon near Thirteenth and M streets.

Aside from this one theft, thirteen other petty larceny cases, including tire and package stealing, have been reported.

So far this month two youths were sent to the county jail on a charge of joy riding which involved the theft of a tire. Another youth pleaded not guilty to the same charge and his trial is pending. A fourth young man pleaded not guilty to malicious destruction of property, a charge which police said grew out of an attempted car break-in.

SAYS ENGAGED TO MAN SLAIN

Catherine Vondra Testifies In Trial Of James Dobry. Ballistic Experts Say Fatal Bullet From Rented Pistol.

SCHUYLER, June 7 —(AP)—Miss Catherine Vondra, 30 year old rural school teacher who was escorted home by William Henesh, 35, the night before he was found murdered in a blazing automobile, testified Thursday in the murder trial of James Dobry, 70, as the state tried the killing.

The school teacher told how Henesh drove her from Schuyler to the farm home of Adolph Dobry, a son of the man accused of murdering Henesh. The next day, she said, she taught shool. At noon she was told an accident had happened and later that Henesh had been found dead in an automobile soaked with oil. The murder charge was filed after an x-ray showed Henesh had been shot.

Slender, dark complexioned and retiring, Miss Vondra shyly told from beneath a big hat that she had promised to marry Henesh and that the wedding was to have taken place this month.

Ronald McDonald, ballistic expert of the Omaha police department, identified the bullet which killed Henesh as one fired from the gun James Dobry had rented at a hardware store a few days before the shooting. He described the tests he had made, and microscopic photographs he had taken were introduced in evidence to support his testimony and the identification of the bullet Wednesday by Calvin H. Goddard, Chicago ballistic expert.

Joseph Konipek, a neighbor of the accused man, told of a conversation last December in which he said Dobry told a story of being robbed and suspecting Henesh and another man of the holdup. Konipek said Dobry claimed he lost $95, but declined an offer to be taken to the sheriff to discuss the affair.

Marlowe Roether described how badly burned the automobile in which Henesh was found was when the body was discovered. Three witnesses, Clarence O'Meara of Omaha, John Miller of Schuyler and John Henesh, brother of the slain man, described a gallon syrup bucket found near the car and testified that its handle was found in the burned automobile.

Callan Refiles For His Senate Seat

State Senator J. S. Callan of Odell made his filing in the secretary of state's office Thursday as a candidate for renomination in the democratic primary. His district, the 16th, includes Gage and Pawnee counties. Mr. Callan was chairman of the senate finance committee, which had charge of important appropriation bills, in the 1933 legislature.

Warrants Set Mark

A record-breaking number of warrants, 16,312, was issued by the state auditor's office during May, although the total of $2,257,316 which they represented is by no means the largest amount of money ever paid out in one month. There were 6,100 warrants drawn against the gasoline tax fund alone. Orders on the general fund numbered 5,531.

GOVERNOR AT CAMBRIDGE.

Governor Bryan was at Cambridge to speak Thursday afternoon at an open air meeting in the park, and address the chamber of commerce at a dinner in the evening. The community had a highway celebration planned for the day.

U. S. DEPT. OF AGRICULTURE WEATHER BUREAU

OCLEAR, OPARTLY CLOUDY, OCLOUDY, ORAIN, OSNOW, OREPORT MISSING.

Observations taken at [illegible] m. [illegible] pressure reduced to sea level and the drawn through points of equal pressure. Arrows fly with the wind.

THE WEATHER.

An active area of low pressure overlies the western Great Plains and has its lowest point in Wyoming. A strong high area is centered north of Lake Superior. This combination controls weather conditions over the heart of the continent today and has brought good rains quite generally over the entire northwest, extending in a strip from the Lake region westward to the coast and south as far as northern Nebraska. Temperatures are below normal over the Lake region and the eastern Rocky Mountain district and above normal elsewhere.

MINERVA'S MAIL

Take Your Troubles To Minerva

Greedy and Thoughtless.

"I have a woman who does all my laundry and cleans the house for one dollar a day," boasted a woman the other day "She has three children to support and is glad to get anything that she can to do."

"How marvelous," responded her companion. "Have you heard about the girl who is going around to the homes and giving waves for fifteen cents, and shampoos and manicures for twenty-five cents? She doesn't have to pay a license for anything and she gives us lots more time and attention than you can get in a shop."

And on went the conversation. Every one of the group of women, all representatives of prosperous homes, had something similar to contribute. I blushed for shame. Where was their sense of fellow-feeling? Where their civic consciousness? Had they no thought of doing their part toward helping restore the world to normalcy, no urge to pay in full for what they received in order that others could be self-respecting?

Their thoughts were all of their own little greedy wants and their own gratification in securing "bargains." I don't believe that there is an alarming majority of women of this type in the world, but I do think the tendency is serious enough to warrant this editorial comment.

When a woman has reached the point of selfishness that she sees nothing beyond her own home and social group, it is time for her to do something about it Sometimes this greedy point of view slips upon her unawares It is to the woman who has drifted into such thoughtlessness that I give warning. The admonition to "Do unto others as you would be done unto" was never more greatly needed than today. If we try to personally profit through depriving others of their rights, no matter how trifling our chiseling may be, we are definitely retarding not only our own progress but that of the entire world It's worth thinking about, isn't it?

When Husband Helps.

Dear Minerva: Do you think a husband should be asked to help with the night care of an infant? I never call upon my husband to get up to help me with the baby. Many of my friends say that I am foolish, that I am wearing myself out unnecessarily, and that a man should share all the responsibilities of caring for the baby when help cannot be employed. I know that some of the girls expect their husbands to fix the baby's night feeding, to prepare their own breakfasts and even to carry breakfast to the wife in bed. This seems all wrong to me. Yet I am tired all the time and wonder if I am making a mistake and spoiling my husband. Please advise me—BABS.

A This is entirely a personal matter, to be adjusted by the husband and wife according to the respective duties and strength of both There is no reason why a husband should not share with the trying night duties for the small baby, if his help is needed. If he must work hard all day, while the wife has time and ability to rest in the daytime, then I think she would prefer to take the burden of the broken night's rest If the wife is unable to rest in the daytime, either because of other children to care for or because she is of a nervous temperament and cannot sleep in the daytime, then she should have no hesitancy in asking her husband to make it possible for her to get in her needed hours of sleep.

Personally, I think it is much better for the wife to take the chief burden of the baby's care, if she can do so without impairing her health and nerves, and leave the husband's mind free for his task of wage earning But circumstances alter cases and it is decidedly a matter for individual adjustment.

The woman who calls upon her hard-working husband to perform home tasks just to show him how difficult a woman's work is, or perhaps to practice her power over him, is being pretty silly. But the woman who makes a nervours wreck of herself with overwork rather than ask her able-bodied husband for needed help is being equally foolish.

Our "First" Sweethearts.

Millicent: I have yet to know a man who did not treasure the memory of some "first" sweetheart. Don't work yourself into hysteria over finding the feminine trinkets and picture tucked away in your husband's trunk. And don't tell him you found them. Probably you, too, treasure the memory of one or more of your childhood beaux, whether you have hidden sentimental trinkets or not. Such sentimental memories have nothing to do with your present state of matrimonial happiness unless you are unwise enough to make an issue of this unsought finding of yours.

Take Your Fat Off Your Mind!

Are you one of those people who are forever worrying because "everything they eat goes to fat?"

Then stop worrying right now—because here's a simple, easy, pleasant way to correct that condition, bring your weight down to normal. Without dieting, without exercises, without drastic purging!

For many years physicians the world over have known and prescribed a famous corrective for abnormal obesity. It has been taken with amazingly beneficial results by thousands of women who were "too fat."

This corrective is the chief active ingredient of Marmola, prepared in tablet form by one of the leading medical laboratories of America. You simply take a tablet of Marmola 4 times a day, and start at once to get rid of burdensome fat.

It sounds miraculous, but thousands of women who have taken Marmola, as directed, might well tell you this story if they had the chance.

Since 1907, more than 20,000,000 packages of Marmola have been purchased—and what greater recommendation can be had?

Today—buy a package of Marmola, and start at once. You will soon experience Marmola's benefits. When you have gone far enough, stop taking Marmola. And you will bless the day when you first learned about this wonderful reducing agent!

4 MARMOLA A DAY TAKES FAT AWAY

"Evil Eye" Victim and Mother

A hearty meal is enjoyed in Orange county hospital, Cal., by 7-year-old Mary Ebarguarry of Santa Ana, following her emancipation after several months penned up in a chicken coop during which she lived on scraps of food given her by a neighbor's boy. The child's mother, Mrs. Josie Ebarguarry (shown with another of her children) said she imprisoned Mary because she had the "evil eye."

NEW O STREET RULES ADVISED

Pedestrian Zones, Left Turns, Signal Timing Plan Submitted.

New timing for traffic signals, revised left turn rules, and a pedestrian zone were recommended for O street by the accident prevention advisory committee to the city council Wednesday afternoon.

The changes, which would require amendment of the traffic ordinance, were drafted by a subcommittee headed by M. T. Caster

One of the changes would be an exception to the state law and would make possible on O street, left turns to the left of the center of the intersection, instead of going around the center point as required at the present time.

Motorists intending to make a left turn would enter a special marked lane. Right turns would be made in a lane nearest the curb, as at present.

A safety zone for pedestrians is also proposed. It would be 8 feet wide. While waiting for the lights to change, pedestrians could stand well out in the street, without fear as autoists will be required to stop at a line extending across the street from the building line.

The traffic light scheme sets up an amber light as the controlling factor, the complete change requiring 45 seconds. O street traffic will be given slightly more time to clear the intersection than will cars crossing O street. This provision is made because of the heavier traffic on the main artery. At the same time, because of the overlapping of the green and amber, and then the amber and red lights, the pedestrian would have about 3 seconds "jump" on the motor car in crossing the street.

Police Captain Paul Shively, in charge of traffic, was the only member of the advisory group to vote against the proposal. "It Won't work," Captain Shively declared.

Radio vs. Rain

CHEYENNE, Wyo., June 7—Stop radio broadcasting and end the drouth is the suggestion given to F. L. Disterdick, federal weather forecaster.

The complainant said he believed waves from the sending stations produce meteorological conditions repellent to rain making and asked that the government halt broadcasting for 90 days to let it rain.

Deep Sleep

CLEVELAND, June 7—(AP)—James Dewar prides himself on his ability as a piano mover.

"Let me show you how," he muttered in a dream. Demonstrating, he fell from his third floor window, landed on his feet, and walked back up one flight of stairs before awakening.

SHOPMEN SEEK WAGE INCREASE

Employes of the Burlington's Havelock shops who belong to the Mechanical Department association, have carried their wage increase request to the U. S. board of mediation, an M. D. A. statement Thursday reveals. Mechanics, helpers and apprentices at the shops are not included in the recent national rail wage settlement, although all other Burlington employes are represented in it.

The M. D. A. refused to accept the national settlement, which provides for a 2½ per cent pay restoration on July 1, 2½ more on January 1, and 5 per cent on next April 1.

The number of shop employes joining the American Federation of Labor local at Havelock is decreasing, the M. D. A. claims

K. K. Bishop, local chairman, and Fay Kauffman, secretary, submitted the following report:

"During this meeting, which was a regular monthly meeting, an executive session was held upon recommendation of the lodge to complete plans in accordance with their constitution regarding a small number of members who have violated the constitution of their order.

"A few months ago when there was a misunderstanding among the workers of this country caused by misleading statements made by labor organizers some of the shopmen in the Havelock local affiliated with another organization which is in violation of their membership in the Mechanical Department association, an independent order of Burlington shopmen

"This executive session was held in accordance with the constitution of the order to prefer charges, appoint trial board, arrange trial and apply penalty to those violating the constitution of the order

"After all business was taken care of plans were made for future meetings, including programs of entertainment and the serving of refreshments

"The report of the executive committee of the Havelock local shows that the Mechanical Department association of the Burlington railroad have 83 per cent of the shopmen in the Havelock shops as members in good standing while 17 per cent are not members at the present time

"A small number of this 17 per cent have affiliated with another organization while the balance of the 17 per cent are non-members, belonging to no organization. The percentage of shopmen at the Havelock shops who some time ago affiliated with the A. F of L, an organization representing only a small number of railway shopmen, is becoming less, due to those men returning to the M. D. A., the standard shopmen's organization on the Burlington

"The present wage controversy as between the Burlington railroad and the Mechanical Department association is causing much added interest.

"The national wage settlement among some railway employes on the 2½ per cent basis does not apply to the Burlington shopmen and their organization has carried the wage conference to the United States board of mediation for future discussion. The Burlington Shoo Craft association known as the M. D. A. are asking for a five and five settlement. Five per cent of the 10 per cent reduction returned July 1, 1934, and the other 5 per cent April 1 1935."

His wife died thirteen years ago, and he now lives alone. He has three sons, Lawrence, Martin and Vigo. Martin is postmaster at the state capitol.

Remington-Rand Is 'Closed Indefinitely' Because of Strike

CINCINNATI, June 7—(AP)—Officials of Remington-Rand, Inc., announced today that their plant here will be "closed indefinitely" as a result of strike outbreaks of the last two days in which one man was shot, two others injured slightly, and a worker's automobile burned.

The shutdown will be effective until settlement of a dispute between workers and officials of Remington-Rand plants here and in the east

Approximately 1,300 persons are normally employed in the plant here. Some 1,100 quit work almost a month ago, and the plant reopened only Monday with a staff reported numbering about 325

In a statement from New York, James H Rand, jr president of the concern, has blamed the strike on the company's refusal to agree to closed shop proposals.

Hanging doesn't stop crime, it is true, but how effectively it stops that particular criminal.
